Fair Skies Greet Pet Parade Friday

Sunshine and blue skies greeted kids, parents, dogs, cats, guinea pigs, raccoons, horses, ponies and burros Friday afternoon at the Pumpkin Show pet parade.

Some original decorations for miniature floats and beautifully dressed cats and dogs made the parade a joy to watch. Little boys and girls carried placards to lead each of the 11 categories of entries through downtown Circleville and back to E. Main St. for the judging.

Circleville Kiwanis Club members supervised the group. Judges for the event were Ada Lou Deal, Phyllis Busker and Janet Bluck of Ashville, Mary Rudolph of Amarda, Phil Van Meter of Belleville, Larry Logan and Sharon Ogden of Circleville, Billy Bellamy and Joe Carducci of Columbus and Joe Dougherty of Minneapolis, Minn.

Nader Studies Congressional Stand Of Ohioans

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Ralph Nader's recently completed study of congressmen finds Ohioan Samuel Devine, R-12, "a formidable figure," William Minshall, R-23, willing to misrepresent his actions, and Chalmers Wylie, R-15, "is his own man."

The profiles make the following observations about other Ohio representatives to Congress:

They say John Seiberling Jr., D-14, has "impeccable environmental credentials," that Charles Whalen Jr., R-3, scores high as a Nixon opponent, that Sen. William Saxbe, also a Republican, is less a maverick, and that Wayne Hays, D-18, is thin-skinned.

The profiles are critical of Republican Sen. Robert Taft Jr.'s labor relations; they call John Ashbrook, R-17, a rebel, and Louis Stokes, D-21, an active lawmaker.

Common Mart Chiefs Pledge United Europe

Carefully Avoid Exact Description Of Future Plans

PARIS (AP) — The first summit meeting of the six Common Market countries and the three that will join it ended today with a pledge by their leaders to form a loose union of European states by 1980.

They pledged to raise living standards inside and outside their democratic systems and to act as good trade and money partners.

The governments hoped to have a strong European parliament, a coordinated foreign policy and complete economic and monetary union by the 1990 deadline for union of nearly 300 million citizens.

French President Georges Pompidou, host and chairman of the summit, told newsmen at the end of the meeting that the members had carefully refrained from describing the union. It has 3½ years to map a change of direction, he said.

Despite outward shows of unity, the conference ran late into the night as leaders debated the final form of the joint communiqué.

The statement's four-point economic and monetary section generally summarized decisions of recent months on pursuing economic and monetary union, joint measures for fighting inflation and reforming the international monetary system.

The members also agreed to set up a European monetary cooperation fund to keep their currencies within narrow margins to guarantee stability on world markets, and laid down lines for negotiating international currency reform.

Cold Spell Ends For Most Of U.S.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Light rain and moderate temperatures ended a three-day spell of record October cold for much of the nation today.

Rain showers stretched from the western Great Lakes to the Middle Mississippi Valley and from Texas to Minnesota.

Temperatures overnight were in the 40s and 50s for most of the nation with the mercury dipping to the 20s in northern New England and the 30s in the Northern Plains. Portions of Texas and Florida warmed to the 60s and 70s.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 12 at Houlton, Maine, to 79 at Corpus Christi, Tex.

Rail President Raps Coal Rules

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — The president of the Chessie System predicted here Friday increased unemployment among coal miners and railroads as a result of overly stringent environmental regulations affecting coal sales.

Hays T. Watkins made the comments in an address before a civic group. "Ten mines that produced nearly 2 million tons of coal last year will have closed by the end of this year," he said.

Watkins said, "Besides reducing employment for miners when mines shut down, coal trains don't run and railroad people don't work."

Indicate Kissinger Makes No Headway

Thieu Nixes Limited Peace

SAIGON (AP) — A Saigon newspaper controlled by the presidential palace reported today that President Nguyen Van Thieu and his national security council have rejected any interim Indochina agreement for a limited peace.

Tin Song said that after three meetings with Henry A. Kissinger, the South Vietnamese told the U.S. presidential adviser they will not accept any temporary peace solution. Tin Song quoted Thieu as reaffirming his position that any agreement must be a lasting settlement.

Tin Song is financed by Thieu's personal aide, Hoang Duc Naha, and for that reason is often regarded as reflecting the official views of the presidential palace.

Kissinger had been expected to meet for the fourth time with Thieu today and then return to Washington. But by dusk, he was still reported at the U.S. embassy and there had been no meetings with Thieu.

But the presidential envoy met for three hours today with Foreign Minister Tran Van Lam. The meeting started in the morning and ended well after noon. Earlier, Lam attended a cabinet meeting called by Thieu.

The U.S. embassy has refused to disclose Kissinger's movements in advance and has kept newsmen and photographers from getting near him since he arrived Wednesday night.

President Nixon's national security adviser flew into Saigon after meeting with North Vietnamese negotiators in Paris.

Since Sunday, there have been many conferences among U.S. and South Vietnamese officials in Saigon, generating speculation of a possible breakthrough in the stalled peace talks.

There has been no official word on the meetings' substantive issues. But some reports indicate the talks are centered on arranging an interim agreement which could mean a limited peace deal followed by further negotiations toward a lasting settlement.

The main issue appears to be the Viet Cong's insistence on the ouster of Thieu and a coalition government that would organize general elections. Thieu has told government officials South Vietnam will never accept a coalition government.

A French correspondent broadcast a report from Saigon Friday that an "unusually well informed source" told him elements of a cease-fire would be announced by Nov. 1. Marcel Giuglaris, who is also a correspondent for the newspaper France Soir, broadcast the story on the privately owned station Europe No. 1.

In New York, the report was responsible for pushing the Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks up 10.69 to close at 942.81.

U.S. Stands On Korea, Philippines Differ Greatly

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is taking sharply different attitudes toward two close Asian allies—the Philippines and South Korea—which have suspended democratic processes and imposed martial law.

In both cases the reins of leadership are being gripped more firmly by the present leaders while basic changes in government are worked out.

In the case of the Philippines, the United States has withheld comment while President Ferdinand Marcos undertakes sweeping reforms in what he says is an effort to thwart a communist takeover. Prospects for a presidential election in November 1973 when Marcos' term ends now appear dim.

But in Korea, President Chung Hee Park has drawn the stern disapproval of high American authorities for his action in suspending the constitution and dissolving the National Assembly.

McGovern Promises 'Fair' Wage And Price Controls

NEW YORK (AP) — Sen. George McGovern is taking an airport-hopping campaign tour of industrial Pennsylvania today after suggesting that President Nixon is ready to impose stricter wage controls on the working man after the election.

"I would adopt a tough, even-handed system to curb the cost of living," the Democratic presidential nominee said in a nationally televised campaign speech Friday night. "I would use the moral and legal authority of the presidency to prevent excessive price and wage increases."

McGovern said any inflation-fighting system is only as good as the people who direct it and, "if an administration is biased toward big business, as this administration is, the system will be both ineffective and unfair."

McGovern was flying today to Scranton, Bethlehem, Reading, Johnstown and Pittsburgh, Pa., to hunt votes in one of the big states central to his electoral strategy.

Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine was to appear with him. Muskie and Sen. Abraham Ribicoff of Connecticut joined the Democratic nominee Friday night at a private fund-raising reception for about 30 people in Stamford, Conn.

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts had joined McGovern earlier at a rally that filled the courthouse lawn in Hackensack, N.J.

Federal Tax Hike Can't Be Avoided, Group Believes

HOT SPRINGS, Va. (AP) — The possibility of a federal tax increase—perhaps a repeat of the temporary tax surcharge of a few years ago—has claimed the spotlight at the fall meeting of the Business Council.

Although administration officials attending the closed council sessions talked only of tax reforms, some of the nearly 100 top industrialists predicted openly or privately that the massive federal deficit sooner or later will compel the government to increase its tax revenues.

That view was reinforced by Rep. John W. Byrnes, R-Wis., ranking minority member of the House Ways and Means Committee. He told the corporation heads "it is essential that we have a tax increase," preferably next year.

CINCINNATI (AP) — Ohio Rep. Chester Cruze, R-Cincinnati, one of those leading the fight to repeal Ohio's income tax, now plans a fight to end legal "discrimination against men."

"Doug's put in a lot of hard work and has excellent patience and discipline for his age," said Sok Ho Kang, a sixth-degree black belt and the boy's instructor for the past three years.

Change Venue For Yablonski Defendants

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Pennsylvania Supreme Court has granted a change of venue for two United Mine Workers officials charged with murder in the 1969 slayings of UMW insurgent Joseph A. "Jock" Yablonski and his wife and daughter.

The trials of Albert Pass, 54, and William Prater, 54, originally were to be held in Washington County, but the high court Friday ordered the proceedings moved to Erie County.

The defendants' attorneys had sought the move on grounds that widespread publicity and public sentiment in Washington County made "fair and impartial" trials for their clients impossible.

"I'm obviously delighted," said Harold Gondelman, Pass' attorney, upon learning of the court's decision. "It's not a total victory, but it is a tremendous victory."

He noted that the law against rape makes it a crime only if a man forces himself on a woman, not vice versa. Another is a law forbidding use of obscene or licentious language in the "presence of a female."

"I am convinced that by changing sections of the code, the legislature can serve to free our masculine citizens from existing inequities of our laws," he said.

Cruze was a leader in the drive to put a constitutional amendment on the ballot which would abolish the state's graduated income tax.

U.S., Russia Rap TV Plan

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Just imagine a man in Burma getting his first television set and tuning it to a violent U.S. suspense thriller.

Or a veiled Moslem woman in North Africa staring at TV commercials about American deodorants and brassieres.

Or a worker in Kiev watching New Yorkers demonstrate against the Soviet Consulate General on a newscast beamed from the United States.

These are some of the television viewers many U.N. diplomats want to protect with new international controls on transmission of programs by satellite directly to home screens in other countries.

The Soviet Union, which has been leading the campaign for controls, suffered a setback Friday in the U.N. General Assembly's main political committee.

The majority agreed on the need for some regulations. But the original Soviet demand for writing a treaty on the subject was so watered down by amendments that Ambassador Jacob Malik finally disowned it. He joined the United States in voting "No" on the final amended resolution, which was approved 68-12, with 18 abstentions.

New Court Suit Hits Tax Repeal Dispute

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Several hours after the Ohio Supreme Court ruled to put the income tax repeal question on the November ballot Friday, repeal forces filed suit in U.S. District Court charging its opponents with false and misleading advertising.

Citizens for Repeal of Ohio's Income Tax Inc. sought to have the repeal forces enjoined from publishing or disseminating any misleading statements.

The major piece of evidence submitted was a pamphlet printed by the Fair Taxation group which says property taxes would be increased 10 percent if repeal was successful and that the homestead exemption for the elderly would be forfeited.

The suit says the pamphlet "constitutes an attempt to intimidate, threaten or coerce the voters of Ohio in their right to vote as they may choose" and violates federal constitutional prohibitions.

Rep. Robert Netzley, R-7 Laura, the founder of the Citizens for Repeal, would not comment about the new suit, but said "I am obviously very happy with the Supreme Court decision."

Netzley said his group would hold a news conference at 3 p.m. Monday and at that time would go into greater detail about the Supreme Court decision and the new charges of false information. The location of the press conference will be announced later he said.

Citizens for Repeal obtained more than 350,000 signatures in an attempt to get the question tax on the ballot.

Mrs. Sandra Schwartz, a lobbyist for the Ohio Education Association filed three suits at tempting to stop a vote on the issue, and the court ruled to dismiss all three. The judges voted 7-0 on two cases and 6-1 on the third.

The court's lone Democrat Justice Lloyd Brown was the only dissenting vote in the major issue which challenged the proposed amendments constitutionally on the basis that repeal would take effect Jan. 1.

Mrs. Schwartz claimed that the Constitution says such action should take effect 30 days after the vote — if it was approved—which would be Dec. 8. The court agreed with Mrs.

Schwartz' claim that the amendment should take effect 30 days after the vote and not on Jan. 1 as the amendment states, but dismissed the charge anyway.

The other two legal challenges the court dismissed involved whether repeal was a referendum or an initiative petition and whether Secretary of State Ted Brown had the authority to go ahead and print the question—officially called Issue 2—on the ballot before the court ruled on the question. U.S. Stands On Korea, Philippines Differ Greatly

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is taking sharply different attitudes toward two close Asian allies—the Philippines and South Korea—which have suspended democratic processes and imposed martial law.

In the case of the Philippines, the United States has withheld comment while President Fer-

But in Korea, President Chung Hee Park has drawn the sterner disapproval of high American authorities for his action in suspending the constitution and dissolving the National Assembly.

The criticism came because Washington feels Korea's economy is vigorous and strongly developed—unlike that of the Philippines.

U.S. officials say they believe the Korean move is a prelude to the introduction on Oct. 27 of a revised constitution which will establish a new method for electing the president. Under the present constitution, Park may not succeed himself when his term expires in 1975. He is in his second term and ninth year as president.

The new Korean constitution is due to be submitted to a national referendum one month after it is proposed by the Council of State. Presumably martial law will be ended to permit the election.

In the case of the Philippines, U.S. officials realize that Marcos was facing a serious security problem at home, the insurgency movement was growing and stability was weakening. The country had pronounced economic problems which had slowed its growth.

As one U.S. official put it, silence by Washington does not mean the Nixon administration approves Marcos' techniques.

FARM

2 The Circleville Herald, Sat. Oct. 21, 1972
Circleville, Ohio

And So It Grows

Following the first hard freeze, mulch your roses to protect them over winter. Mulching prevents heaving of the soil due to freezing and thawing. During the summer, the mulch will help conserve moisture, keep down weeds, hold the soil at a more even temperature, and increase aeration of the soil as it breaks down.

In Ohio, the first hard freeze normally comes in November but not later than early December. Apply mulch four to five inches deep or add two or three inches, if a summer mulch was used.

Many materials may be used. Rose growers may have a particular preference or the type material used may be determined by what is available and economical. Ground corn cobs are popular for mulching. Another very good material is peat moss. The coarser Canadian or German types are recommended. Manure is excellent if available at a reasonable cost. Wood chips or shredded bark are others.

Corn cobs, wood chips, shavings, straw or other such material that has to go through the decaying process will need additional nitrogen fertilizer. The decaying process ties up soil nitrogen but will release it again after the process is complete. When these materials are used as mulch, add 2 to 3 pounds of a 5-10-10 or similar fertilizer per 100 square feet of bed.

Some growers of roses build teepee-like structures over the roses, using asphalt paper. Others use collars or cones made of many different materials such as asphalt, paper, styrofoam, fiberglass and cardboard. Fill collars with organic material or soil. Cones and other devices are left empty.

Roses may be planted successfully either in the fall or spring. However, most gardeners find planting in the spring more convenient and a greater choice of varieties are available. Also, plants do not have to go through the adverse conditions of winter, if planted in the spring.

If you are planting roses this fall or next spring, ask your county extension agent for a copy of LF-RO 1-69, "Planting Garden Roses." This leaflet covers the planting procedure in detail.

Now that the "bugs" have retired for the winter, at least most of them, you can store your pesticides. Improper storage is a major cause of accidental deaths from pesticides. Small children are curious and are inclined to taste any available material. Most accidental ingestions occur to children under five years of age.

Store pesticides in the original, labelled containers—never in food or drink containers. Discard unidentified pesticides. Keep them in a dry, well-ventilated room or building away from food, feed and seeds. Liquid pesticides should be stored in heated areas to prevent freezing. Keep the storage area locked.

Farm Tax Workshop Announced

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent,
Agriculture

Farm tax consultants in the area will have an opportunity to attend a two-day tax workshop at the Holiday Inn in Chillicothe, November 1 and 2, according to an announcement today by George Hamrick, County Extension Agent, Agriculture.

The workshop will emphasize the latest information on tax changes, reporting procedures and regulations of Federal and Ohio income tax programs. Example tax problems will be worked out and explained during the workshop, Hamrick said.

Those who attend the Chillicothe workshop will find the program almost identical to the state tax workshop being held in Columbus, October 16 and 17. The same group of Internal Revenue Service personnel is serving as instructors. Since a smaller group is expected at Chillicothe, workshop participants will have a better opportunity to get their questions answered on a personal basis.

Hamrick said workshop enrollment forms and copies of the program are available at his office located at 137 W. Franklin Street, in Circleville, phone 474-7534. He also stated that complete information on the workshop can be obtained by writing to Jim G. Polson, Area Extension Agent, Farm Management, 317 S. Fayette Street, Washington C.H., Ohio 43160.

Cost for the workshop is $12.00. This includes registration fee, two meals, refreshments, and the workshop manual. Your enrollment and fee should be sent to reach Jim G. Polson, by October 24.

Workshop participants who will need overnight lodging are asked to make their own housing reservations. These should be made as soon as possible.

The tax workshop is sponsored by the Washington C.H. and Jackson Area Extension Centers, College of Agriculture and Home Economics of The Ohio State University, cooperating with the Extension Service and the Internal Revenue Service, Ohio Department of Taxation, and the Social Security Administration.

Expect 1973 To Be Good For Business

See Necessity For Continued Federal Controls

HOT SPRINGS, Va. (AP) — Top industrialists foresee a strong business expansion throughout 1973, shadowed by the threat of rising interest rates and the necessity for continued controls to curb inflationary pressures.

Members of the Business Council, assembling for their fall meeting with high government officials including Secretary of the Treasury George P. Shultz and Secretary of Commerce Peter G. Peterson, said they consider the re-election of President Nixon virtually assured. And they made generally favorable forecasts of the economic outlook.

But several told reporters privately that the inflation hazard requires a outright extension of wage-price controls for another year beyond next April 30, when the Phase 2 law expires.

Others spoke out for a looser system, permitting large segments of the retail economy to be decontrolled, but keeping standby ceiling authority on the law books and using it in areas of the economy where inflationary pressures remain dangerous.

"I hate to have to say it, but I believe controls will have to be kept on for another year," one major manufacturer said. "If you had told me a year ago that a majority of businessmen would want controls continued I would have said you were crazy."

That corporation executive and others said controls—or at least some form of regulation stronger than voluntary guidelines—are needed to keep reasonable stability in the coming year when major pattern-setting union contract settlements must be reached.

Most agreed that rising interest rates pose a threat to the business expansion in 1973 but a majority said the "credit crunch" of two years ago can be avoided.

Few were willing to predict whether the government would be content to let market forces control the situation.

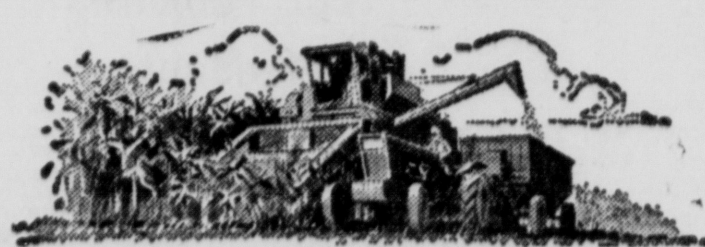

New York A Trains Are The Noisiest

NEW YORK (AP) — The noisiest subway stations in the world are on Manhattan's west side where the "A" trains run express at high speed between 59th and 125th streets, according to a noise survey.

"It sounds something like a tornado going directly overhead when you're in a storm cellar," said Martin F. Huss, a transportation engineer at Brooklyn's Polytechnic Institute.

Huss said, "The very best system in terms of low noise would appear to be Montreal's, which runs on rubber wheels."

You may before long see beverages sold in edible cans and candy bars in wrappers you can eat. In the next ten years you may see all this and more too, according to a food scientist at Penn State University.

Edible containers have intrigued food technologists for years. The pie crust or shell and the ice cream cone probably started it all. Edible coatings are now largely used on poultry products intended for institutional sales to prevent dehydration during frozen storage, but that's only the beginning.

Gelatin capsules have been used successfully to hold medicinal ingredients as well as to impart flavor as one example of an "eat all" item. Successful coatings such as Myvacet (which acts as a release agent in the frying pan) have been used on fresh poultry before freezing to reduce moisture losses by 85 per cent. It also adds a nutritious substance to the product. Other products which have been coated in the same way include shrimp, vegetables, nuts, dried fruits, breaded products, meat patties and sausages.

Nuts are used in cakes and ice cream as a coating to prevent oxidation. Water soluble films are already available for packaging instant tea, dehydrated soups, powdered drinks and other ready-to-prepare or eat foods.

Bite size freeze dried foods used in space travel is one important area where an acceptable edible coating would be helpful to solve some of the problems of crumbling, or shattering during landing. Continued studies are underway to produce coatings which could be used on all freeze dried and compressed bite-size foods.

Saturation is one of the problems which must be overcome — the edible container must be able to withstand touching and handling in addition to being strong enough to hold the product. Cost is another factor which must be considered. Edible containers must be protected from contamination by dust and bacteria so that will also add to the packaging costs which will increase the cost to the consumer.

Thus far, no coating has been found that is suitable for all products. Apart from beeswax and cheese rind, there are very few examples in nature that could be exploited industrially.

Man-made edible containers would be desirable. So the search for better packaging methods will continue and the edible films on the market will improve. The edible beer can and the candy bars in wrappers you can eat may be on the horizon, but there are several areas yet to be reckoned with, according to the Penn State professor.

Motorcyclists

Free On Bond

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Five Hell's Angels, charged following a clash with police, posted bond and left Memphis Thursday after their lawyer from Cleveland, Ohio, arrived to represent them.

The motorcycle club members from Buffalo, N.Y., Shreveport, La., and Cleveland each posted $1,500 bond after the five—and one more club member who is hospitalized as a result of the clash—were arrested early Tuesday following the incident.

Police said the six were arrested when the fight broke out between officers and club members during a routine check at a downtown Memphis beer lounge. Police have not said specifically what provoked the fight.

Racial Adjustment Made By Parents

WELLINGTON, N. Z. (AP) — A baby girl with a European father and a Maori mother has achieved fame by being formally registered as a half-caste European.

Deidre Hemingway's Maori grandfather, Tom Waiwai, insisted on the move because he said, he was "fed-up with the term half-caste Maori."

Said Waiwai: "Whenever anyone with mixed blood does anything wrong he's always described as being part-Maori."

Deidre's parents agreed to the move. Although the official registration form contained no provision for representing a child as a half-caste European, the registrar's office accepted the entry.

Japanese Soldier Slain; Had Been Hiding 27 Years

MANILA (AP) — One Japanese soldier holed up on a Philippine island since World War II was killed and another wounded in a gun battle with government troops, authorities reported Friday.

The clash took place Thursday morning in a forest on Lubang Island, 75 miles southwest of Manila, and the wounded man escaped with his comrade's rifle, a spokesman said.

He added that the slain Japanese carried 45 rounds of .25-caliber Japanese ammunition dating from World War II, a sewing kit, a piece of paper with Japanese writing and a picture.

The Japanese Embassy said he also had some 1939 Japanese coins.

Japanese soldiers have been sighted wandering about the forests of Lubang Island since 1960, but this was the first time they were involved in a gun battle with Philippine troops, the spokesman said.

Japanese Ambassador Toshio Urabe asked that a rescue team be sent from Japan to try to persuade the wounded soldier and any others in the area to give up. Philippine troops were ordered to stop searching for the men on Urabe's request.

Last January, a Japanese sergeant, Shoichi Yokoi, was discovered in a cave in Guam after hiding there for 27 years. He said he hid "rather than surrender to the enemy."

Japan's Kyodo News Service identified the dead man as Kinshichi Kozuka and the wounded man as Shiro Onoda.

Official Japanese records say Kozuka died Aug. 1, 1945, and Onoda Sept. 2, 1945, but the Japanese Welfare Ministry said it had long known they might have survived the war and gone into hiding. However, it said it gave them up for dead after Japanese search groups found no signs of them in 1959 and 1963.

Kozuka's parents in Tokyo, 81-year-old Naokichi and his 77-year-old wife, said they were shocked to hear the reports of their son being found but then killed. They said they made a tomb for him years ago.

"It's really unbelievable," Mrs. Kozuka told a reporter and shut the door.

And So It Grows

Following the first hard freeze, mulch your roses to protect them over winter. Mulching prevents heaving of the soil due to freezing and thawing. During the summer, the mulch will help conserve moisture, keep down weeds, hold the soil at a more even temperature, and increase aeration of the soil as it breaks down.

In Ohio, the first hard freeze normally comes in November but not later than early December. Apply mulch four to five inches deep or add two or three inches, if a summer mulch was used.

GM Requests Meet With UAW

DETROIT (AP) — The recent rash of strikes by the United Auto Workers against General Motors — like the one at Fairfax, Ohio, which started Thursday — has prompted a GM request for a summit meeting with top union leadership, according to UAW President Leonard Woodcock.

Woodcock said Thursday no date had been set but added he is agreeable to such a meeting, presumably with Richard Gerstenberg, GM Board chairman.

Almost all of the recent strikes have been directed at General Motors Assembly Division (GMAD) plants. GMAD runs 18 of the automaker's 22 American assembly plants.

Connally Believes Security Of Nation Top Election Issue

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — is Former Texas governor John B. Connally, chairman of the Democrats for Nixon campaign, says the main issue of the 1972 presidential campaign is "the safety and security of this country and the role it should play in this particular time in history."

Connally told a City Club audience here Thursday that the Nixon administration — of which he was formerly a member — was moving steadily ahead, both at home and abroad.

"We're doing more and more social programs than ever before in the history of this country," said Connally. He did admit, however, that the 5.4 per cent unemployment level was "unacceptable."

Connally, who as Treasury secretary helped Nixon launch wage and price controls last year, said the program was working and pointed to the decrease in inflation from six per cent to three per cent.

"I don't think there's a question in anybody's mind that we're in the middle of a great economic expansion in this country," said Connally. "The dollar has strengthened in every market in the world."

Connally defied his Republican campaigning, saying "sometimes the demands of party loyalty are too high."

He said his faction was "not just an isolated few. There are about 20 million of us ... and Democrats for Nixon wouldn't exist if the nominee had been other than George McGovern."

The former Nixon aide insisted that he'll remain a Democrat because of his belief that the party will swing back to "a centrist position, back into the center of American political thought" following the election and McGovern's defeat.

OSU Chief Attacks

Tax Repeal

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Harold Enarson, Ohio State University's new president, in a letter to students, faculty and staff Thursday urged them to vote against repeal of the state's income tax.

Enarson said he has strong convictions about taking stands on partisan political issues, but he also believes it is his duty as president to speak out clearly "to any serious threat to the vitality and integrity of the university ..."

"I fully concur with the judgement of the Board of Regents in their statement issued Thursday," Enarson said.

The letter then quotes in full the board's statement which begins: "We strongly urge that the citizens of Ohio vote No on Issue 2."

The board's statement says "it is painfully clear that as of today ... there is very little public understanding of the chaos the people of Ohio will bring upon themselves if the income tax is repealed without at the same time providing some other tax system."

The board said, "It is clear that higher education would face a cutback of a scale wholly without precedent in the history of public higher education in Ohio."

China Another India?

India once was thought of as a leader of the independent or 'third-world' countries. The honorary position was bestowed largely because of India's large land mass occupied by one of the most dense populations. The title long ago went out the window and today India is regarded as little more than another underdeveloped country.

Mainland China has all the prerequisites for a similar fate. A huge population mass occupying a vast territory and a uniformly low subsistence level make life in Red China not dissimilar from existence in India. At the moment the mysterious Chinese hold much of the spotlight in world affairs.

The emphasis could be deceiving. China is a relative weakling among nations. It possesses a minimum nuclear capability, but lacks delivery potential. It possesses no strong economic base upon which it would need to rely for sustained aggression.

China's trading potential is minimal for the same reason. Its economy is not consumer-oriented and it possesses little to offer in exchange. China could develop in importance; that also was possible of India at one time.

Aid Rules Required

A number of lessons have been learned, rather expensively, by the United States and other industrial nations in their attempts to provide economic assistance to underdeveloped countries. One is that an infusion of financial assistance without adequate advance planning and careful follow-through has a high rate of failure.

Capital is important to create industry where none exists, or to introduce modern technology into primitive societies. But the management and utilization of that capital are the factors necessary to turn a factory or a farm into a productive entity.

It is frequently not an easy matter for the assisting nation to overcome bureaucracy and other entrenched obstacles in getting to the heart of the development project. Sometimes the obstacle can be political; frequently it is economic ignorance.

Just as no successful businessman would put his money into a project where the obstacles would seem to surmount the potential for success, no assistance program worthy of consideration should do so either. Certain conditions ought to exist and be guaranteed by the recipient before aid is granted.

To insist upon fundamental rules in assistance programs is not being hard-hearted. It is simply good sense to try to make such programs overcome the inertia for failure.

On Vietnam

By JEFFREY HART

At first glance it is by no means easy to understand why Sen. George McGovern took precisely the position he did in his October 19 speech on Vietnam. In terms of his campaign, McGovern needed to do no more, seemingly, than position himself noticeably to the doveward side of Nixon. It would have sufficed for him to promise complete American withdrawal, while still supplying the South Vietnamese if they chose to go on fighting. That position would have allowed the various Vietnamese elements to negotiate their relations if they chose to do so.

But McGovern went far beyond that position. He not only promised complete U.S. withdrawal within 90 days, but, crucially, he promised to remove all salvageable U.S. equipment, and, further, to supply no further U.S. equipment to the South. No inhibition would be placed upon Soviet supplies to the North.

Now this is an extraordinary position indeed. What McGovern proposes, in effect, is to switch sides in the war and guarantee the maximum war aims of the other side. And so eager was he to take this position that he left himself no leverage regarding the prisoners. He merely said he would "expect" Hanoi to return them.

The political risks inherent in McGovern's position are suggested by the fact that it was too much for James Reston, who denounced it the economic and defense proposals. He has made pilgrimages to LBJ and Dick Daley. But all of this has lessened the enthusiasm of the original pursists for his candidacy. There is almost no McGovern activity on the nation's campuses today; the canvassing operations lag badly. McGovern has done all he can with the regulars. Now he needs to reactivate the zealots. Hence the Vietnam positions.

But the third reason is especially piquant. McGovern suspects, either through surmise or through a leak, that a Vietnam peace plan is in the works. And I think McGovern is correct. Things began to move in the last fortnight for several reasons: North Vietnamese losses in the recent offensive and through the bombing; the North Vietnamese fear of facing a re-elected Nixon; and, finally, the judgment by Moscow, passed on to Hanoi, that Nixon was certain to be re-elected. A genuine compromise is therefore very much in the works.

McGovern also understands, however, that if Nixon delivers on this before the election, McGovern himself will be sunk entirely. The speech, therefore, was a desperate signal to Hanoi to hang on the hope for a and muted his more startling McGovern victory.

China Another India?

India once was thought of as a leader of the independent or "third-world" countries. The honorary position was bestowed largely because of India's large land mass occupied by one of the most dense populations. The title long ago went out the window and today India is regarded as little more than another underdeveloped country.

Mainland China has all the prerequisites for a similar fate. A huge population mass occupying a vast territory and a uniformly low subsistence level make life in Red China not dissimilar from existence in India. At the moment the mysterious Chinese hold much of the spotlight in world affairs.

The emphasis could be deceiving. China is a relative weakling among nations. It possesses a minimum nuclear capability, but lacks delivery potential. It possesses no strong economic base upon which it would need to rely for sustained aggression.

China's trading potential is minimal for the same reason. Its economy is not consumer-oriented and it possesses little to offer in exchange. China could develop in importance; that also was possible of India at one time.

Aid Rules Required

A number of lessons have been learned, rather expensively, by the United States and other industrial nations in their attempts to provide economic assistance to underdeveloped countries. One is that an infusion of financial assistance without adequate advance planning and careful follow-through has a high rate of failure.

Capital is important to create industry where none exists, or to introduce modern technology into primitive societies. But the management and utilization of that capital are the factors necessary to turn a factory or a farm into a productive entity.

It is frequently not an easy matter for the assisting nation to overcome bureaucracy and other entrenched obstacles in getting to the heart of the development project. Sometimes the obstacle can be political; frequently it is economic ignorance.

Just as no successful businessman would put his money into a project where the obstacles would seem to surmount the potential for success, no assistance program worthy of consideration should do so either. Certain conditions ought to exist and be guaranteed by the recipient before aid is granted.

To insist upon fundamental rules in assistance programs is not being hard-hearted. It is simply good sense to try to make such programs overcome the inertia for failure.

On Vietnam

By JEFFREY HART

At first glance it is by no means easy to understand why George McGovern took the position he did in his October 10 speech on Vietnam.

In terms of his campaign, McGovern needed to do no more, seemingly, than position himself noticeably to the doveward side of Nixon. It would have sufficed for him to promise complete American withdrawal, while still supplying the South Vietnamese if they chose to go on fighting. That position would have allowed the various Vietnamese elements to negotiate their relations if they chose to do so.

But McGovern went far beyond that position. He not only promised complete U.S. withdrawal within 90 days, but, crucially, he promised to remove all salvageable U.S. equipment, and, further, to supply no further U.S. equipment to the South. No inhibition would be placed upon Soviet supplies to the North.

Now this is an extraordinary position indeed. What McGovern proposes, in effect, is to switch sides in the war and guarantee the maximum war aims of the other side. And so eager was he to take this position that he left himself no leverage regarding the prisoners. He merely said he would "expect" Hanoi to return them.

The political risks inherent in McGovern's position are suggested by the fact that it was too much for James Reston, who denounced it the economic and defense proposals. He has made pilgrimages to LBJ and Dick Daley. But all of this has lessened the enthusiasm of the original pursuers for his candidacy. There is almost no McGovern activity on the nation's campuses today; the canvassing operations lag badly. McGovern has done all he can with the regulars. Now he needs to reactivate the zealots. Hence the Vietnam positions.

But the third reason is especially piquant. McGovern suspects, either through surmise or through a leak, that a Vietnam peace plan is in the works. And I think McGovern is correct. Things began to move in the last fortnight for several reasons: North Vietnamese losses in the recent offensive and through the bombing; the North Vietnamese fear of facing a re-elected Nixon; and, finally, the judgment by Moscow, passed on to Hanoi, that Nixon was certain to be re-elected. A genuine compromise is therefore very much in the works.

McGovern also understands, however, that if Nixon delivers on this before the election, McGovern himself will be sunk entirely. The speech, therefore, was a desperate signal to Hanoi to hang on the hope for a muted his more startling McGovern victory.

According To Boyle

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things that make life worth living:

The relieved smile of a splinter from its foot without pain. Pulling cockleburrs out of a dog's coat. Breaking snap beans for a big family Thanksgiving dinner.

The opening of a bud. The soft closing of a door after you kiss goodnight the one you love.

Seeing your face get back to normal after the mumps. Holding a milk bottle to your ear to see if it will echo the sea's murmur as a seashell does.

Watching a Handy Andy wife wallpaper a room all by herself.

The elation of learning that you're going to be a father for the first time, and then the slight deflation of realizing that probably 20 billion other men have had that feeling before you. Well, so hurrah for them, too — each man in his time.

Squishing cool river bottom mud between your toes on a hot July day. Urging your best girl to go wading in a cold mountain stream.

Falling asleep to the timeless feathered thunder of the surf. Waking in the night drowsily when rain spatters on the roof of a cabin in the woods.

Pinning a baby's diaper without pinning either the baby or one of your fingers.

The wet summons of a water-fall.

Learning to make your knuckles pop. Learning to make a fire without matches.

Learning how to whistle through your front teeth. Learning the alphabet backward. Learning that Rome wasn't built in a day. Learning that love has many lessons, not just one, and sometimes makes you want to cry.

An unseen jet plane scarring the sky with vapor trails — the eerie signature of the invisible machine.

Holding up your arm in a new class when the teacher finally asks a question you can answer. Holding up a piece of smoked glass so you can stare at an eclipse. Holding on to a rope successfully in a tug-of-war contest. Holding hands with a girl on the way home from church. Holding up your baby sister to look at a store window full of playing puppies. Holding on to a job you can't afford to lose.

The sight of a great white snowfall covering the ugliness of a great grimy city.

The song of an unknown bird, half-heard all alone at twilight in a dim and darkening forest.

For these and other benisons of being, we thank Thee, Amen.

The Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — It seems that the advantages of being No. 1 in the industrial world clearly outweigh the drawbacks. Otherwise, why the battles and claims and charges? And when the spot is lost, why the desperate fight to regain it?

Whether the position is desired because of the assumption that the biggest is also the best and thus should deserve the customer's order or whether it is mainly a matter of pride is debatable. But big appears to be beautiful.

U.S. Steel certainly treasures the label that so often identifies it as "the nation's No. 1 steel producer," and you may be sure heads would roll if the tag were lost to Bethlehem, the No. 2 producer.

In the vehicle-rental business, Hertz is still in the lead and racing hard to stay there. But Avis, fusing in second place with about 110,000 vehicles to Hertz' 155,000, has been saying lately that it will be No. 1. When it doesn't say.

In food retailing, the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company, the top food chain since records were kept, now is carrying on what smaller retailers claim is the most savage price war they've ever seen.

For several years, A&P has been losing its share of the market, and its profits have been skimpy. Still, it didn't go on a price-cutting rampage until Safeway Stores began telling people it had taken over the top spot.

That claim is still open to dispute, but there is no question that Safeway sales were growing while A&P's, until recent weeks, were slipping. A&P closed 1971 with volume of $5.43 billion; Safeway, with $5.36 billion.

As the gap narrowed early this year, A&P furiously accelerated a program of converting more than 4,000 outlets to discount status, fully anticipating the losses that followed. Since February, those losses total more than $40 million.

In the opinion of the Justice Department, and many other critics as well, big is often bad. International Business Machines, which in some years has had as much as 70 per cent of the electronic computer industry, learned this.

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

A Better understanding of the disorder of stuttering is emerging from the use of computers.

It has, for a long time, been believed that deep-seated emotional problems are the fundamental cause of stuttering. Treatment therefore, has constantly been directed at uncovering psychological difficulties along with speech rehabilitation.

Many new methods are being tried. One, at the Medical College of Virginia, seems to be of great importance. Dr. Ronald L. Webster and others have shown that people with normal speech can be made to stutter when they hear a taped recording of their own speech with a two-tenths of a second delay.

This delayed feedback interferes with speech rhythm, and causes stuttering. On the basis of this fact, treatment for stutterers is directed at slowing down the speech, and holding on to each syllable so that no more than 30 words a minute are spoken. Using a computer, a patient speaks into a microphone and actually "sees" the immediate effect of his speech on a typewritten chart.

To the uninformed, this may sound terribly confusing. However, the simple important fact is that people with stuttering problems have actually been "re-programmed" to speak properly within a few weeks.

Dr. Webster believes that it won't be long before a stutterer can learn to correct his speech patterns by speaking into a telephone connected to a computer many miles away from his home.

Cholera still crops up occasionally in countries privileged with good health care. In underdeveloped and impoverished countries, cholera is a constant threat. It often unnecessarily destroys thousands of lives in uncontrolled epidemics.

The present vaccine is very effective. Because it is given by injection it seems to dissuade some people from accepting this preventive vaccination.

Now, at the University of Texas Southwestern Medical School, a new cholera vaccine is being tried. It is given by mouth and it seems to offer longer and greater protection than the vaccine now in use.

Dr. Richard A. Finkelstein and Dr. Koichiro Fujita have been using this new oral vaccine at the school in experimental animals. They have offered scientific reasons why the oral vaccine will eventually be far more effective than the present one.

It is hoped that the experimental vaccine, when further studied, will be available soon for the protection of humans everywhere.

Look Out Below! It's Raining Fishes

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: Have you ever heard of a fish falling from the sky?

My husband is serious about the fact that once when it was raining, he saw a small fish coming down with the rain! When I laughed at him, he explained that the sun had picked up the egg from the stream, and it hatched in the sky, so when it rained, a live fish came down.

I think this is ridiculous and that my husband needs help. I'd like to hear from you.

WONDERING IN KANSAS
DEAR KANSAS: Your husband's story sounds fishy to me. Are there any pisciculturists out there who can reel in the answer to this? I seem to have heard this fustle before.

DEAR ABBY: In reply to "Little Old Lady Baby Sitter" who thinks baby sitters should form a union because they are underpaid and overworked:

If they feel abused, all they have to do is refuse to sit for the abusive parties. I think we parents should form a union. We pay a sitter 75 cents an hour to do nothing but sit. Our baby is asleep when she gets here, and all our sitter has to do is match TV, snack, and talk on the telephone, which is the reason our line is always busy when we call home to see if everything is all right.

About snacking: we have had sitters consume five and six bottles of soft drinks in one evening, and clean out a filled cookie jar to boot. We should turn in a bill for what they eat above and beyond what we think is normal.

ABUSED PARENT
DEAR PARENT: Turn about is fair play. If you feel abused by your sitter, get another sitter. But wouldn't it make more sense for parents and sitters to air their gripes to each other and lay down some ground rules?

DEAR ABBY: Someone asked if honesty paid. Let me tell my story:

On a beautiful sunny afternoon, I took my wife and children to lunch in the country. En route home I had to make a phone call so I stopped at a gasoline station, opened the telephone book and found a coin purse with about $300 in it. No identification, no nothing.

I was on my way to turn it in to the service station attendant when a woman drove up and asked if anyone had seen her coin purse. I immediately handed it to her. She had just cashed a check and was enroute to the airport to visit a sick relative. She wanted to give me a reward. I said, "No, thank you. A person doesn't need a reward for being honest."

I hope my children remember this episode.
RON PELL, RIVERSIDE, CAL.

DEAR RON: They will now. DEAR ABBY: I got a kick out of "No Gambler" the gal who went to the races with a guy who gave her $2 to bet a horse. Her horse came in and paid $70, she offered the guy half, and he said if she didn't give him the whole $70 he wouldn't take her home, so she kept the $70 and she took a bus.

You told her she was better at picking horses than people and to stick with whole horses. Well, listen to this:

I took a gal to the races and gave her $10. She picked a long shot and won $660. She thanked me for the thrill of winning and shoved the $660 in my pocket. I tried to stick it in her purse but there was no way she would keep a dime.

With the world so full of grabby broads you can imagine how big a hit this kid made with me I must have sent her $3,000 in perfume and jewelry. In fact, if I wasn't already married, I'd have asked her to marry me.

DEAR ABBY: In reply to "Little Old Lady Baby Sitter" who thinks baby sitters should form a union because they are underpaid and overworked: If they feel abused, all they have to do is refuse to sit for the abusive parties. I think we parents should form a union. We pay a sitter 75 cents an hour to do nothing but sit. Our baby is asleep when she gets here, and all our sitter has to do is match TV, snack, and talk on the telephone, which is the reason our line is always busy when we call home to see if everything is all right.

About snacking: we have had sitters consume five and six bottles of soft drinks in one evening, and clean out a filled cookie jar to boot. We should turn in a bill for what they eat above and beyond what we think is normal.

ABUSED PARENT
DEAR PARENT: Turn about is fair play. If you feel abused by your sitter, get another sitter. But wouldn't it make more sense for parents and sitters to air their gripes to each other and lay down some ground rules?

DEAR ABBY: Someone asked if honesty paid. Let me tell my story:

On a beautiful sunny afternoon, I took my wife and children to lunch in the country. En route home I had to make a phone call so I stopped at a gasoline station, opened the telephone book and found a coin purse with about $300 in it. No identification, no nothing.

I was on my way to turn it in to the service station attendant when a woman drove up and asked if anyone had seen her coin purse. I immediately handed it to her. She had just cashed a check and was enroute to the airport to visit a sick relative. She wanted to give me a reward. I said, "No, thank you. A person doesn't need a reward for being honest."

I hope my children remember this episode.

RON PELL, RIVERSIDE, CAL.

DEAR RON: They will now. DEAR ABBY: I got a kick out of "No Gambler" the gal who went to the races with a guy who gave her $2 to bet a horse. Her horse came in and paid $70, she offered the guy half, and he said if she didn't give him the whole $70 he wouldn't take her home, so she kept the $70 and she took a bus.

You told her she was better at picking horses than people and to stick with whole horses. Well, listen to this: I took a gal to the races and gave her $10. She picked a long shot and won $660. She thanked me for the thrill of winning and shoved the $660 in my pocket. I tried to stick it in her purse but there was no way she would keep a dime.

With the world so full of grabby broads you can imagine how big a hit this kid made with me I must have sent her $3,000 in perfume and jewelry. In fact, if I wasn't already married, I'd have asked her to marry me.

Words Created To Bridge The Communication Gap

By TIM WARNER
Associated Press Writer
LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Have any idea what the word rhotelism means? Or botryuid? How about zoopsia or alamatorium?

Don't feel you're an under-educated individual if you don't know that rhotelism is the term describing the way some people pronounced Cuba as "Cubar" and other words ending in "a."

Or don't feel uninformed if you didn't know that zoopsia is the medical term for the hallucination of seeing pink elephants.

Zoopsia and rhotelism are just a couple of the recent creations of Dr. J. E. Schmidt of Charlestown, Ind., a small town which lies just across the Ohio River from Louisville, Ky. Schmidt is a man who does a lot more than just combine Greek and Latin roots to form new words.

Schmidt calls himself a "vocabularist" and has spent much of his 50 years trying to help those associated with the medical field to keep aware of the terms and words that spring almost daily into the medical vocabulary.

Part of that activity has been the creation of over 3,000 words. "That's just a minor facet of it," says Schmidt about his word creations. "I like to think of myself as somewhat of a translator."

Schmidt, a native Latvian, speaks seven languages.

Through his column in the magazine "Modern Medicine" and in over 20 reference books loaded with every medical term in existence, Schmidt has created tools which the physician can use when dealing with medical problems outside his specific field.

"It's not a glamorous profession," says Schmidt. "But the future shock we hear so much about today is particularly evident in the medical field. Nowadays by the time a doctor graduates from medical school he may already be years behind the discoveries and technological advances that occurred during his training period.

"Since knowledge has increased so rapidly it is impossible for those associated with the medical field to keep abreast of the changes."

Besides his books of terms and discoveries written particularly for physicians, Schmidt has compiled a massive two volume work of medical terms for lawyers involved in medical cases. He also has been influential in helping paramedics, those individuals who assist physicians in their work.

Emphasizing that there are 10 paramedics for every physician in the United States, or a total of one million such individuals, Schmidt noted, "These people have to be kept informed to."

Schmidt summarizes by saying, "I guess what I've tried to do is bridge gap, create new words where the need exists and help lay people understand the medical world a bit more."

Cheese Torte Goes To Fair

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor
Milwaukee's annual Holiday Folk Fair is coming up (November 17 to 19) and we've just had a preview of one of the good dishes that will be offered there. This Folk Fair — the largest of the many Folk Fairs held throughout the country — is sponsored by Milwaukee's International Institute with the cooperation of 45 nationally groups and each group designs its own booth and decides which foods it will serve at the fair.

We borrowed the fair's recipe for Bavarian Cheese Torte and made it in our own kitchen. It is a delightful dessert but, if you try it, don't expect it to have cheese cake made with cream cheese. This torte has the texture characteristic of the cottage cheese that goes into it.

BAVARIAN COTTAGE CHEESE TORTE

14 pieces. (from a 6-ounce package) zwickback
2 tablespoons butter, soft
2 tablespoons sugar
1 pound dry cottage (pot) cheese, sieved
1 cup sugar
1 tablespoon flour
1 teaspoon vanilla
4 eggs
1 container (ounces) heavy cream
Rind and juice of ½ lemon

Crush the zwickback into crumbs — there should be about 1 cup. In a small mixing bowl mix together the crumbs, butter and 2 tablespoons sugar. Press over bottom of a 9-inch springform pan.

In large bowl of electric mixer beat together the cottage cheese, 1 cup sugar, flour and vanilla. Gently beat in the eggs, one at a time, the cream, lemon rind and lemon juice. Beat at medium speed for 3 minutes. Pour over crumb mixture in springform pan.

Bake in a preheated 350 degree oven until set — 50 minutes. Cool. Chill. Just before serving remove sides of springform pan.

Cut cheesecake into quarters and then cut each quarter into 2 or 3 slices. Makes 8 to 12 servings.

If you like to make drop cookies, equip your kitchen with 2 or 3 cookie sheets. While one sheet of cookies is baking, the second and third sheets can be filled.

Cost Of Living Increases To 3.5 Per Cent Last Month

WASHINGTON (AP) — The cost of living, led by higher prices for clothing, accelerated in September and pushed the rate of inflation to 3.5 per cent since President Nixon's Phase 2 price controls began, the government said today.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics said that the Consumer Price Index rose four-tenths of one per cent last month, with higher prices for clothing causing almost half of the increase. The price of gasoline and eggs also contributed heavily to the advance.

On a seasonally adjusted basis, the rate of increase was five-tenths of one per cent, the highest since February, when the economy was going through a post-freeze bulge in the rate of inflation.

The bureau said the effects of clothing, gasoline and egg price increases were moderated by lower prices for beef, fresh fruits and vegetables and new cars.

The price of food rose six-tenths of one per cent on a seasonally adjusted basis, about the same rate as in July and August. But on an unadjusted basis, the increase in food prices was two-tenths of one per cent.

While the index accelerated, the bureau said that the average weekly earnings of American workers rose seven-tenths of one per cent in September, making real spendable earnings 3.7 per cent higher than a year ago. This was the largest one-year increase in real earnings for any September since records have been kept.

The Consumer Price Index showed that in the 10 months since Nixon's price controls have been in effect, consumer prices have gone up 3.5 per cent compared with 3.8 per cent in the eight months before Nixon froze wages and prices in August 1971.

Satellite Studies

Interstellar Clouds

PRINCETON, N. J. (AP) — Clues to the origin of the stars are being gathered by an unmanned satellite orbiting 500 miles above the earth.

Called the Orbiting Astronomical Observatory, the satellite is studying the composition of interstellar clouds, believed by some to be the matter from which stars are formed.

"Scientists cannot study these gaseous clouds from the ground," said Dr. Lyman Spitzer of Princeton University, "since the ultraviolet light used to study them cannot penetrate the earth's atmosphere."

With an accuracy equivalent to focusing on the width of a pencil 10 miles away, a fine error sensor orients the satellite's telescope toward an object under investigation. The electronic system was designed and built by GTE Sylvania Inc.

Called the Orbiting Astronomical Observatory, the satellite is studying the composition of interstellar clouds, believed by some to be the matter from which stars are formed.

"Scientists cannot study these gaseous clouds from the ground," said Dr. Lyman Spitzer of Princeton University, "since the ultraviolet light used to study them cannot penetrate the earth's atmosphere."

With an accuracy equivalent to focusing on the width of a pencil 10 miles away, a fine error sensor orients the satellite's telescope toward an object under investigation. The electronic system was designed and built by GTE Sylvania Inc.

The bald eagle is the national bird of the United States. A figure of the bald eagle — a large bird of prey of North America — appears on many American coins and special flags.

Three Americans Win 1972 Nobel Physics Prize

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Three Americans — John Bardeen, Leon Cooper and John Robert Schrieffer — won the 1972 Nobel Physics prize Friday for their theory of superconductivity, the Royal Swedish Academy of Science announced. It was the second Nobel

Award for the oldest of the trio, 64-year-old Dr. Bardeen of the University of Illinois. He shared the 1956 physics prize with two other Americans for the development of the transistor.

Cooper, 42, is a professor at Brown University in Providence, R.I., and Schrieffer, 41, is a professor at the University of Pennsylvania.

The three will divide the $98,100 prize money equally.

The physics award was the third of the five Nobel awards to be announced this year.

The prize for literature went to novelist Heinrich Böll of West Germany on Thursday. The medical prize was awarded Oct. 12 to Dr. Gerald M. Edelman of the United States and Dr. Rodney R. Porter of England. The prize for economics will be announced Oct. 25, and no peace prize is being given this year.

The chemistry prize was to be awarded later today.

The science academy in announcing the physics prize said the three Americans demonstrated the interaction among electrons leading to superconductivity.

Their key theory "was indeed very successful in explaining in considerable detail the properties of superconductors. The theory also predicted new effects and stimulated an intensive activity in the theoretical and experimental research which opened up new areas for research," the academy said.

Their theory is usually called the BCS theory, for the three men, who developed it jointly.

The term superconductivity refers to the complete disappearance of electrical resistance, and the phenomenon was discovered by the Dutch physicist Kamerling Onnes in 1911. His measurements indicated a fundamentally new state of matter, and his discovery won the 1913 Nobel prize for him.

But the central problem, the question of the underlying mechanism of superconductivity, remained a mystery until Bardeen and his colleagues cracked it in the late 1950s.

More Strikes Pound GM

DETROIT (AP) — Employees walked out at three more General Motors plants Friday as the United Auto Workers continued their hit-and-run battle with the industry giant.

About 12,400 workers were idled by strikes at GM facilities in Fairfax, Kan., Janesville, Wis., and Arlington, Tex. GM also faces strike deadlines next Thursday at its Fisher Body stamping plant in Hamilton, Ohio, and Friday at assembly plants in St. Louis and Leeds, Mo.

Only the Hamilton plant is considered a key plant — one whose shutdown could affect much of the entire GM line.

If the Friday strikes follow the recent pattern of UAW walkouts, the workers should be back to work early next week as their leaders put the pressure on GM over production standards — the only strikeable issue in their contract.

The quick strikes put little strain on the union's strike fund, while disrupting the company's production schedules and shipments.

3 Ohio Power Companies Get Go-Ahead On A-Plant

CINCINNATI (AP) — Three Ohio power companies have been given the green light to begin construction of a $315-million nuclear power plant on the Ohio River at Moscow.

The Atomic Energy Commission announced late Friday that a building permit had been issued and would be delivered sometime next week to the Cincinnati Gas and Electric Co., the Dayton Power and Light Co. and the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co.

The plant, to be located 30 miles east of Cincinnati, was first announced in 1969 by the power companies as a joint venture. The 840-megawatt generating station was planned to take care of all electrical needs for development of southwestern Ohio through 1996.

CG&E spokesmen, who said they had not been notified officially, said plans call for the new plant to be completed for operation by 1977. CG&E, the prime investor, will build and operate the facility, to be called the William F. Zimmer Nuclear Power Station.

Site preparations began on the Clermont County riverbank in June, 1970, but were halted a year later when the U.S. District Court in Washington D.C. ordered the AEC to suspend all plans for nuclear power plant development.

The order came in a suit involving the Calvert Cliffs, Md. plant in which the AEC's safety and environmental protection regulations for the power plants were challenged.

While the AEC was reviewing its regulations, the Cincinnati Area Chamber of Commerce filed a letter with the AEC asking an end to further delay of the Moscow plant. The chamber said the plant was needed to provide the energy for industrial development of southern Ohio.

It said continued delay would hamper planning efforts and that a decision against permitting construction of the plant would eliminate a projected 50,000 jobs over the next 20 years.

The AEC then held two hearings in the Cincinnati area: on June 1-2 a special board considered health and safety measures to be taken and the plant; on Sept. 30, environmental considerations were heard.

The Tri-State Air Commission, an Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky environmental protection group, boycotted the second hearing.

A spokesman charged that the AEC had already made up its mind to issue the building permit. He said further testimony against construction of the plant was futile.

Washington Twp. PTO

After Open House classroom visitations, the October meeting of the Washington Twp. PTO was opened by all in attendance reciting the pledge to the American flag.

Attendance banner was presented to Mrs. Martindale's class after a room count was taken. It was decided to continue the policy of giving $2 to the room winning the attendance banner.

Questions arose about the school library which was started last year. Mr. Brown reported that the room was being used for a class this year and no other location for the library could be found.

The magazine sale undertaken by the PTO was recorded as a success.

Mr. Ott thanked the teachers and the sixth grade students for putting the programs together.

Ted Young asked the PTO to be sponsor of a cub scout troop. The idea was discussed, but referred to the school board for a decision.

Refreshments were served by first grade room mothers.

Three Americans Win 1972 Nobel Physics Prize

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Three Americans — John Bardeen, Leon Cooper and John Robert Schrieffer — won the 1972 Nobel Physics prize Friday for their theory of superconductivity, the Royal Swedish Academy of Science announced. It was the second Nobel

Award for the oldest of the trio, 64-year-old Dr. Bardeen of the University of Illinois. He shared the 1956 physics prize with two other Americans for the development of the transistor.

Cooper, 42, is a professor at Brown University in Providence, R.I., and Schrieffer, 41, is a professor at the University of Pennsylvania.

The three will divide the $98,100 prize money equally. The physics award was the third of the five Nobel awards to be announced this year.

The prize for literature went to novelist Heinrich Böll of West Germany on Thursday. The medical prize was awarded Oct. 12 to Dr. Gerald M. Edelman of the United States and Dr. Rodney R. Porter of England. The prize for economics will be announced Oct. 25, and no peace prize is being given this year.

The chemistry prize was to be awarded later today.

The science academy in announcing the physics prize said the three Americans demonstrated the interaction among electrons leading to superconductivity.

Their key theory "was indeed very successful in explaining in considerable detail the properties of superconductors. The theory also predicted new effects and stimulated an intensive activity in the theoretical and experimental research which opened up new areas for research," the academy said.

Their theory is usually called the BCS theory, for the three men, who developed it jointly.

The term superconductivity refers to the complete disappearance of electrical resistance, and the phenomenon was discovered by the Dutch physicist Kamerling Onnes in 1911. His measurements indicated a fundamentally new state of matter, and his discovery won the 1913 Nobel prize for him.

But the central problem, the question of the underlying mechanism of superconductivity, remained a mystery until Bardeen and his colleagues cracked it in the late 1950s.

More Strikes Pound GM

DETROIT (AP) — Employees walked out at three more General Motors plants Friday as the United Auto Workers continued their hit-and-run battle with the industry giant.

About 12,400 workers were idled by strikes at GM facilities in Fairfax, Kan., Janesville, Wis., and Arlington, Tex.

GM also faces strike deadlines next Thursday at its Fisher Body stamping plant in Hamilton, Ohio, and Friday at assembly plants in St. Louis and Leeds, Mo.

Only the Hamilton plant is considered a key plant — one whose shutdown could affect much of the entire GM line.

If the Friday strikes follow the recent pattern of UAW walkouts, the workers should be back to work early next week as their leaders put the pressure on GM over production standards — the only strikeable issue in their contract.

The quick strikes put little strain on the union's strike fund, while disrupting the company's production schedules and shipments.

COSI Plans Railway Tour

In answer to numerous requests, The Center of Science and Industry (COSI) and Franklin County Historical Society, has scheduled a second Hocking Valley Railway tour Oct. 29.

The tour will also include a stop at Old Man's Cave in Hocking State Park. Chartered buses will depart from COSI at 9:30 a.m. and return to COSI by 5:30 p.m.

Feature of the tour will be a ride on the Hocking Valley Scenic Railroad which begins its run in Nelsonville and goes as far as Carbon Hill. The Hocking Valley Scenic Railroad Company is a non-profit corporation dedicated to the restoration and operation of historic railroad equipment. The COSI tour party will travel on two historic passenger cars pulled by a 1916 steam locomotive that was once used to haul iron ore trains in Northern Michigan.

Following the rail trip, the tour party will travel to Hocking State Park for a stop at Old Man's Cave.

Tour prices include bus fare, box lunch and rain ride. The tour is limited to 156 persons with Oct. 25 as deadline date for reservations. Persons interested should call COSI: 228-6361.

Social Security Not Enough For Retired Couple

Monthly social security payments to the average retired worker and his wife are about two-thirds of the income they need to live according to the latest "intermediate budget for a retired couple" from the U.S. Department of Labor.

Social security payments replace part of the earnings a worker loses when he retires. The average payment to a retired worker and his wife — both 62 or over and both getting social security — is $271 a month, according to Hay B. Bieber, social security district manager in Chillicothe.

"That's 68 per cent of the Department of Labor's 'intermediate budget' for a retired couple, which calls for $28 a month," he said. The intermediate budget is for a self-supporting retired couple who live independently in their own home, area in reasonably good health, and can take care of themselves, according to the Department of Labor.

The Department of Labor has also developed a "lower-level" budget for retired couples — $277 a month; and a "higher-level" budget — $620 a month. "The average $271 social security payment to retired couples is 98 per cent of the Department of Labor's lower-level budget and 44 per cent of the higher level budget," Bieber pointed out.

The Chillicothe social security office is located at 606 Central Center — phone 775-4950. The hours are from 8:45 a.m. to 4:45 p.m. Monday through Friday — holidays excepted.

3 Ohio Power Companies Get Go-Ahead On A-Plant

CINCINNATI (AP) — Three Ohio power companies have been given the green light to begin construction of a $315-million nuclear power plant on the Ohio River at Moscow.

The Atomic Energy Commission announced late Friday that a building permit had been issued and would be delivered sometime next week to the Cincinnati Gas and Electric Co., the Dayton Power and Light Co. and the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co.

The plant, to be located 30 miles east of Cincinnati, was first announced in 1969 by the power companies as a joint venture. The 840-megawatt generating station was planned to take care of all electrical needs for development of south-western Ohio through 1996.

CG&E spokesmen, who said they had not been notified officially, said plans call for the new plant to be completed for operation by 1977. CG&E, the prime investor, will build and operate the facility, to be called the William F. Zimmer Nuclear Power Station.

Site preparations began on the Clermont County riverbank in June, 1970, but were halted a year later when the U.S. District Court in Washington D.C. ordered the AEC to suspend all plans for nuclear power plant development.

The order came in a suit involving the Calvert Cliffs, Md. plant in which the AEC's safety and environmental protection regulations for the power plants were challenged.

While the AEC was reviewing its regulations, the Cincinnati Area Chamber of Commerce filed a letter with the AEC asking an end to further delay of the Moscow plant. The chamber said the plant was needed to provide the energy for industrial development of southern Ohio.

It said continued delay would hamper planning efforts and that a decision against permitting construction of the plant would eliminate a projected 50,000 jobs over the next 20 years.

The AEC then held two hearings in the Cincinnati area: on June 1-2 a special board considered "health and safety measures to be taken and the plant; on Sept. 30, environmental considerations were heard.

The Tri-State Air Commission, an Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky environmental protection group, boycotted the second hearing.

A spokesman charged that the AEC had already made up its mind to issue the building permit. He said further testimony against construction of the plant was futile.

Washington Twp. PTO After Open House classroom visitations, the October meeting of the Washington Twp. PTO was opened by all in attendance reciting the pledge to the American flag.

Attendance banner was presented to Mrs. Martindale's class after a room count was taken. It was decided to continue the policy of giving $2 to the room winning the attendance banner.

Questions arose about the school library which was started last year. Mr. Brown reported that the room was being used for a class this year and no other location for the library could be found.

The magazine sale undertaken by the PTO was recorded as a success.

Mr. Ott thanked the teachers and the sixth grade students for putting the programs together.

Ted Young asked the PTO to be sponsor of a cub scout troop. The idea was discussed, but referred to the school board for a decision.

Refreshments were served by first grade room mothers.

Tigers Have SCO Grid Title In Grasp

LEADING GAINER—Eddy Richter (44) was Circleville's leading groundgainer in the game with Greenfield Friday. Richter rushed for 96 yards.

SCO Cats Win Football Games

South Central Ohio League cats, Circleville Tigers, Miami Trace Panthers and Washington C.H. Blue Lions were all winners Friday night.

The Red and Black won the Tiger fight with Greenfield, 34-14. Miami Trace downed Hillsboro 48-13 and Washington edged Wilmington, 28-22.

The Pete Jones aerial show keyed the Trace win over Hillsboro. Jones through touchdown strikes of 77 and 73 yards to Jeff Spears 63 yards to Glen Gifford and 28 yards to Randy Hammond. The Panther quarterback was on target 12 of 21 attempts for 363 yards. Trace racked up a total offense of 533 yards.

For Hillsboro Walter Shoemaker scored on a three yard run and Mark Coffman on a 47 yard return of a pass interception.

CHUCK Wilson scored two of Washington's touchdowns, on a 2 yard run and a 92 yard run, both in the first quarter. Allan Coppock hit Mark Johnson in the end zone with the two point conversions after both.

In the second quarter, Coppock hit Johnson with a 25 yard scoring strike. Keven Terry completed the Blue Lions. Scoring when he latched onto a 10 yard pass from Coppock.

Wilmington first got on the board when they trapped Wilson in the end zone for a safety. Then Ron Kirk scored on a four yard run, Jackie Watson on a six yard run and Robert Raizik hit Keith Hill with a 19 yard scoring aerial. The same two teamed up for the two extra points.

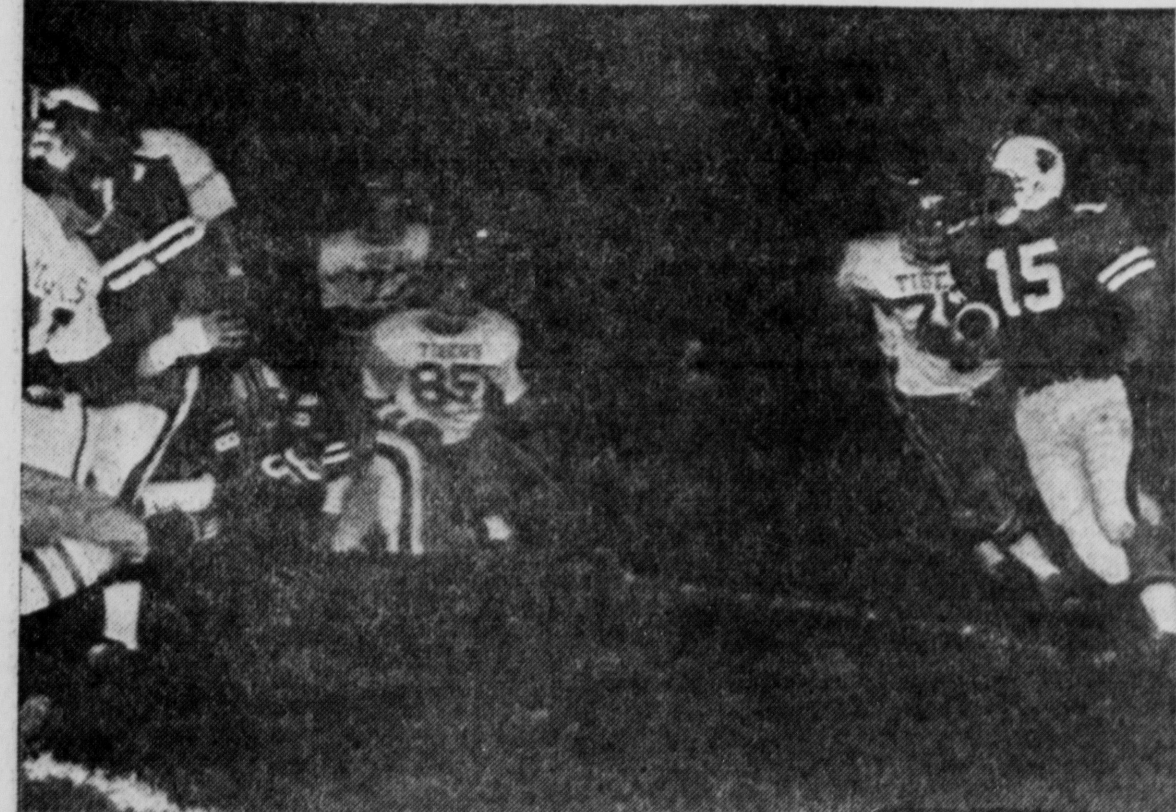

Next week Greenfield is at Washington C.H., Wilmington is at Hillsboro and Circleville hosts Miami Trace.

Last night's win has assured the Red and Black of at least a tie for the South Central Ohio League crown, and a win against Trace will give them the gold trophy, symbolic of an undefeated league season.

Yogi Berra has made more World Series hits than anyone. He made 71 hits in 14 World Series.

TOUCHDOWN BOUND—Dave Truex (15), Circleville's senior quarterback has the goal line in his sights. This was a 24 yard scoring run by Truex. Circleville won, 34-14.

Circleville scored 20 points in the final two quarters to walk away from a strong Greenfield team 34-14 Friday night at Greenfield.

It was a crunching ground game and opportunistic defense that won the game for Circleville. Statistics were nearly dead even.

The Tigers from Circleville picked up 13 first downs to 12 for the Tigers from Greenfield.

Circleville had 244 total yards gained, all rushing, to 235 total for Greenfield on 186 yards rushing and 49 yards passing.

CIRCLEVILLE fumbled five times, losing three, and Greenfield lost the ball four times on seven fumbles.

Both teams punted twice—Circleville for a 30 yard average and Greenfield for a 22 yard average.

Circleville was penalized six times for 46 yards and Greenfield three times for 45 yards.

Greenfield tried 12 passes, hitting six. They were intercepted twice. Circleville tried two unsuccessful passes.

Greenfield struck first in the game with Jim Jury crashing into the endzone from one yard away with 7:32 left in the first quarter.

But Circleville came right back when Dave Truex rolled out on a quarterback keeper and scampered 24 yards with 5:23 left in the quarter.

THE first try for points was good, but Circleville was red-flagged for illegal procedure. Gary Mogan was stopped on the second effort.

Pat McNaughton powered into the endzone from five yards out with 8:33 left in the half to give Circleville their first lead of the game. Truex found John Ankrom in the endzone with a conversion toss to up the score to 14-7.

Greenfield culminated a long drive with Jim Jury's 1-yard touchdown plunge with 19 seconds left in the half. Strain's conversion kick tied the score 14-14 as the half ended.

Eddy Richter hit the middle on a fourth down play from two yards out to put Circleville ahead for good with 8:46 left in the third period. Roll's kick made it 21-14.

Truex opened the final period with an eight yard run with 11:10 remaining. Again Roll split the uprights with the conversion.

Gary Mogan finished the scoring with a five yard scamper with 5:41 left. The kick was no good.

RICHTER carried the brunt of the Circleville offense with 96 tough yards in 16 carries. Mogan handled the ball 15 times for 65 yards. Truex had 33 yards in six carries. McNaughton carried three times for 32 yards. Webb carried once for seven yards. Joe Smith carried once for four yards. Chris Payne carried once for three yards and Mike Speakman ran once for minus 1.

Both Truex pass attempts fell incomplete.

Buddy Kennedy paces Greenfield with 75 yards rushing in nine attempts. He also hit on six of the 12 pass attempts for 49 yards.

Brad Adams, who carried the ball only three times, accumulated 44 yards. Marion Blake carried nine times for 24 yards. Jim Jury carried 11 times for 28 yards. Jim Van Dyke carried four times for 14 yards. Tim Case carried once for four yards and Charles Eschgroth carried once for a yard.

Chris Howland hauled in two Kennedy passes for 31 yards. Judy snagged two passes for 13 yards. Blake caught one pass for two yards and Adams caught one pass for three yards. Circleville got an early break but couldn't capitalize.

ROCK Davis' opening kick was returned by Greenfield, but Circleville was penalized five yards for illegal procedure.

Davis' next boot was fielded by Dan Raikie on his 30 yard line but he lost control while charging up field and McNaughton recovered for Circleville on the Greenfield 29 yard line.

Richter gained about six yards up the middle on Circleville's first play, but was slugged to the ground on the Greenfield 23-yard line, where he fumbled the ball.

Following a line plunge that gained a yard, Kennedy tried a keeper up the middle, and cut down the right sideline when he saw some daylight to the Tiger 15-yard line. The play covered 61 yards and he was dragged down by Tom Frericks.

The Tigers pounded at the middle of the Circleville line for five plays before Jury's first score.

Greenfield tried to keep their momentum with an onside kick following the touchdown, but Dale Immler recovered on the Circleville 31-yard line.

MOGAN slashed the middle for a first down on two tries, but Richter fumbled again on the next play and Greenfield took the ball on CHS' 48 yard line.

Kennedy fumbled on the first play after the ball change and John Ankrom got it back for Circleville near midfield and raced to the Greenfield 25 yard line.

Mogan hit the middle for a yard gain and then Truex rolled left for 24 yards and Circleville's first touchdown.

Greenfield was stopped in four plays following the Circleville kick but the ball rolled dead on their 34 yard line.

The Tigers ran out the quarter in seven plays by digging to the 2 yard line. But Truex was grabbed for a 12 loss on a fourth down play to start the second period and Greenfield took over on their 14 yard line.

On Greenfield's third scrimmage play, Jury's fumble was picked up by Reggie Radcliff on the host Tiger 23 yard line.

THREE running plays took the ball to the 13 yard line. Richter fumbled again at this point, but Ankrom recovered for Circleville. McNaughton scored from five yards out on the next play.

Ankrom's diving catch of a Truex pass just inside the endzone gave the Tigers a 14-7 lead.

Greenfield took the ball on their 26 yard line and used three plays to cross into Circleville territory. But the drive stalled five plays later and Greenfield punted.

However, Circleville was penalized five yards on the kick and Greenfield converted a fourth down and one play at the CHS 34 yard line.

Jury scored 12 plays later to knot the score as the half ended.

Circleville took the second half kick and rolled for a touchdown in eight plays Richter culminated the drive with a two yard scoring spurt.

GREENFIELD moved to Circleville's 18 yard line in nine plays but a fourth down pass was intercepted by Ankrom in the endzone to stall the drive.

Circleville started at their 20 and rolled to the Greenfield 21 yard line in 11 plays as the quarter ended. The drive was aided by two major penalties against Greenfield for grabbing the face mask and roughing the passer.

The Tigers were faced with a fourth down and two yard situation to open the final period. Truex' keeper got the yardage, but the Tigers were set back 15 yards for clipping.

Faced with a fourth and 17 situation, Truex punted 33 yards to the Greenfield two yard line.

But the host Tigers were penalized 15 yards for a fair catch infraction and Circleville had the ball 4-4 on the 20.

Three plays later Truex scored.

LATE in the game, a Greenfield drive stalled on their 26 yard line and Mogan cracked left guard three plays later to close out the scoring.

Frericks paced the Tiger defense with eight tackles. Dennis Huston had five, Mogan, Truex, Radcliff had four each and Keith Davis, Stuart Moore and Immler had three apiece.

Logan Elm Wins Battle Of Statistics But Loses On Scoreboard At Adena

Logan Elm dropped a heart-breaking Scioto Valley Conference game to a tough Adena football team 22-8, in a tilt that virtually decided the league champion Friday at Frankfort.

The win gives the Warriors a 5-0 SVC record and their remaining competition is against the weak sisters of the league, Paint Valley and Zane Trace.

Logan Elm is now 4-1 in the conference, 5-2 overall and faces another rugged test this coming Friday when the Unioto Shermans invade the Braves' gridiron.

Statistically, the game was close last night. The Braves even had a slight edge, acquiring 14 first downs compared to 13 for the hosts and gaining a total of 241 yards rushing and passing compared to 236 for Adena.

EVEN in the "mistake" department the Braves came out ahead, turning the ball over three times, once on a fumble and once on a pass interception and once on a blocked punt while the Warriors lost the ball five times on fumbles.

But Adena's defense made few mistakes and was tough when it had to be. And Adena was able to capitalize on Logan Elm's errors.

The first touchdown of the game came with 4:25 to go in the first period when Adena's junior tackle Chuck Brown picked up a LE fumble at about the Adena 30 yard line and rammed 70 yards to score. On the conversion try, Adena was penalized and then fumbled the pigskin away.

The second touch down by Adena resulted when they broke through to block one of Doug Marshall's punts and covered the ball at the LE 32 with about two minutes to go in the first half.

Robert Garrison and Roger Ragland teamed up in five plays to reach paydirt with Ragland carrying the last three yards. This time the try for the extra points was good when Ragland kept the ball and carried for the conversion.

In the second half, the Warriors mounted an 82 yard scoring drive the second time they had the ball. The big play was a perfect screen pass from Ragland to Garrison that covered 63 yards for a touchdown. Ragland dropped back and dumped a short throw over the heads of onrushing LE gridders into the arms of Garrison, who had a wall of blockers in front who knocked the rest of the LE defense out of the play. Again Ragland kept the ball on the try for the extra points and moved across the goal line for a 22-0 lead.

IN the fourth quarter the Braves penetrated to the three yard line, where they had to give up the ball when they couldn't get it into the endzone for far enough for a first down on fourth and one at the three. The Warriors moved the ball out to the 31 where they fumbled and it was recovered by Mike Williams. This time Logan Elm was able to capitalize and score.

The big play of the 31-yard drive was a broken pass play. Steve Sargent dropped back to pass, but his protection broke down before he could find an open receiver.

He ran to his left, managed to squirm out of the grasp of two warriors, cut back across the field and was finally brought down at the one yard line. Two plays later he carried the ball into the end zone.

Sargent passed to Greg Justus for the extra points and just 3:41 remained to be played in the game.

The Braves had two more chances with the ball. A pass interception killed one of the chances and time ran out on the next.

Dan Ramey was Logan Elm's leading ball carrier, picking up 51 yards on the ground. Rod Howard gained 49 although he sat out much of the first half with a back injury. He also caught one pass for 21 yards. Brain Barr gained 23 yards, Sargent 17, Gary Francis 16, Greg Justus seven and Wes King three.

Big Final Quarter Fails For Braves

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Boston Celtics won three quarters and they won the game but the Buffalo Braves won the final period in record fashion.

The Celtics, 5-0 in the young season, nearly ran the Braves off the court for three quarters, running up a lead of 43 points. The Braves came back, however, in the fourth period score 58 points and established a league record for points in a single period.

At the buzzer the Celtics were still on top 126-118 and all the Braves' shotgun scoring had accomplished was to make the final score respectable.

Knicks Edge Past Cavaliers, 92-89

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Walt Frazier had just taught the Cleveland Cavaliers another lesson in basketball, but the New York Knicks guard wasn't about to brag about his performance.

"Everytime we come in here, we have a tough game," said Frazier after the Knicks squeaked past the winless Cavaliers 92-89 Friday night.

Mustangs Throw Pioneers For Loss

Westfall got its offense going Friday to defeat visiting Zane Trace 32-18 in Scioto Valley Conference action. It was the second win of the season for the John Glanton coached Mustangs and the second in the SVC.

The Mustangs gained 201 yards on the ground and completed seven of 11 passes for 70 yards. They had a total of 12 first downs.

The leading groundgainer for the Mustangs was the quarterback, Dave Shannon. Toting the pigskin 10 times, he gained 67 yards, Larry Adams carried 12 times for 37 yards, Rick Gaa eight times for 27 yards, Artie Dick nine times for 39 yards and Ted Musselman five times for 31 yards.

Zane Trace jumped out to an early lead, putting together a 45-yard touchdown march. The Pioneers held the Mustangs on the ensuing kick, got the ball back at the 40 and manufactured a 60-yard march to go ahead 12-0 in the first quarter.

WESTFALL came back in the second period, marching 55 yards for a touchdown. Shannon scored on an option play from the 12-yard line and then passed to Larry Adams for the 2-point conversion.

The score at halftime was 12-8. The Mustangs kicked off to open the second half, held Zane Trace and then scored the first time they had the ball to go ahead for good in the game. Artie Dick put the six points on the board on a 10-yard trap play. Shannon passed to Randy Hildenbrand for the extra points and a 16-12 lead.

Westfall got the ball back on a fumble and marched 35 yards for the score. Rick Gaa moved into the endzone from four yards out. Ted Musselman went off tackle for the extra points and a 24-12 edge for Westfall.

Westfall fumbled the ball away the next time they had it and Zane Trace took advantage of the miscue to put together a 45-yard scoring drive.

The final score came with a minute and five seconds to go in the game. A 55-yard drive was capped by a razzle-dazzle scoring play when Shannon passed to Adams who in turn passed to Hildenbrand for the score. The conversion was by Shannon.

Next Friday Westfall hosts East Clinton. Westfall is now 2-3 in the SVC and 2-5 overall.

Reds Top A's 5-4; Home For 'Must' Game Today

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer
CINCINNATI (AP) — A baseball game in bright sunshine can really open your eyes. Look what it did for Bobby Lyons and the rest of the Cincinnati Reds.

Tolan drove in two runs to help the Reds beat the Oakland A's 5-4 in the fifth game of the World Series Friday at Oakland.

The Reds, who had trouble hitting in the twilight in two previous games at Oakland, cut the A's margin in the series to 3-2. Today it's game No. 6 at Cincinnati.

Friday, the Reds' Pete Rose hit Jim "Catfish" Hunter's first pitch for a home run and Denis Menke drilled another one into the seats three innings later.

The homers were the first for Cincinnati in this series. Hunter had a 4-2 lead going into the fifth inning, but had to leave after Tolan knocked in the Reds' third run with a single. Rollie Fingers, who has pitched in every series game thus far, shut off the Reds' threat then but later gave up he tying run on another base hit by Tolan in the eighth and the winning run on Rose's single in the ninth.

Rose had delivered only one hit in 15 at-bats before going 3-for-5 Friday. He also had a single in the third inning.

The Reds appeared on the brink of elimination after Gene Tenace's three-run homer in the second inning gave the A's a 3-1 lead.

The capacity crowd of 49,410 gave Tenace a standing ovation as he crossed home plate, courtesy of Cincinnati starter Jim McGlothlin. Mike Epstein walked and George Hendrick singled prior to the walkoff. Tenace's fourth of the series. Only four others players in history have belted four in a World Series—Babe Ruth, Lou Gehrig, Duke Snider and Hank Bauer. No player has hit five homers in a series.

The Reds' dugout came to life again—and the partisan crowd quieted down—when the National League champions cut the Oakland lead to 3-2 on Menke's home run down the left field line.

Gonzalo Marquez, who tied a World Series record for pinch hits with three, gave the home team a 4-2 edge with a run-scoring single in the fourth.

Joe Morgan, Tolan and Rose—three players who hadn't done much in this series—then proved the undoing of the American League champions.

Morgan walked with two out in the fifth inning and came all the way home after getting a big jump when Tolan drilled a line-drive single to right-center. Morgan's speed also paid off again in the eighth when he walked, stole second and roared home to tie the contest 4-4 on Tolan's base hit.

After Rose knocked in the winning run in the ninth innig, it was Morga's arm—o his legs—that saved the game for Cincinnati.

The A's had runners on first and third with one out on a walk to Tenace and a pinch-hit single by Dave Duncan. Bert Campaneris lifted a dying fly in foul territory along the first base line that Morgan gloved.

Bu John "Blue Moon" Odom, running for Tenace at third, sensed a chance to score. He raced home, but was cut down on Morgan's peg to catcher Johnny Bench for a double play that ended it, although Morgan slipped on the heavy turf just before making the throw.

The Red and Black won the Tiger fight with Greenfield, 34-14. Miami Trace downed Hillsboro 48-13 and Washington edged Wilmington, 28-22.
The Pete Jones aerial show keyed the Trace win over Hillsboro, Jones through touchdown strikes of 77 and 73 yards to Jeff Spears 63 yards to Glen Gifford and 28 yards to Randy Hammond. The Panther quarterback was on target 12 of 21 attempts for 363 yards. Trace racked up a total offense of 533 yards.
For Hillsboro Walter Shoemaker scored on a three yard run and Mark Coffman on a 47 yard return of a pass interception.

In the second quarter, Coppock hit Johnson with a 25 yard scoring strike, Keven Terry completed the Blue Lions Scoring when he latched onto a 10 yard pass from Coppock.
Wilmington first got on the board when they trapped Wilson in the end zone for a safety. Then Ron Kirk scored on a four yard run, Jackie Watson on a six yard run and Robert Raizk hit Keith Hill with a 19 yard scoring aerial. The same two teamed up for the two extra points.
Next week Greenfield is at Washington C.H., Wilmington is at Hillsboro and Circleville hosts Miami Trace.

TOUCHDOWN BOUND—Dave Truex (15), Circleville's senior quarterback has the goal line in his sights. This was a 24 yard scoring run by Truex. Circleville won, 34-14.

Circleville scored 20 points in the final two quarters to walk away from a strong Greenfield team 34-14 Friday night at Greenfield.
It was a crunching ground game and opportunistic defense that won the game for Circleville. Statistics were nearly dead even.
The Tigers from Circleville picked up 13 first downs to 12 for the Tigers from Greenfield. Circleville had 244 total yards gained, all rushing, to 235 total for Greenfield on 186 yards rushing and 49 yards passing.
CIRCLEVILLE fumbled five times, losing three, and Greenfield lost the ball four times on seven fumbles.
Both teams punted twice—Circleville for a 30 yard average and Greenfield for a 22 yard average.
Circleville was penalized six times for 46 yards and Greenfield three times for 45 yards.
Greenfield tried 12 passes, hitting six. They were intercepted twice. Circleville tried two unsuccessful passes.
Greenfield struck first in the game with Jim Jury crashing into the endzone from one yard away with 7:32 left in the first quarter.
But Circleville came right back when Dave Truex rolled out on a quarterback keeper and scampered 24 yards with 5:23 left in the quarter.
THE first try for points was good, but Circleville was red-flagged for illegal procedure. Gary Mogan was stopped on the second effort.
Pat McNaughton powered into the endzone from five yards out with 8:53 left in the half to give Circleville their first lead of the game. Truex found John Ankrom in the endzone with a conversion toss to up the score to 14-7.
Greenfield culminated a long drive with Jim Jury's 1-yard touchdown plunge with 19 seconds left in the half. Strain's conversion kick tied the score 14-14 as the half ended.
Eddy Richter hit the middle on a fourth down play from two yards out to put Circleville ahead for good with 8:46 left in the third period. Roll's kick made it 21-14.
Truex opened the final period with an eight yard run with 11:10 remaining. Again Roll split the uprights with the conversion.
Gary Mogan finished the scoring with a five yard scamper with 5:41 left. The kick was no good.
RICHTER carried the brunt of the Circleville offense with 96 tough yards in 16 carries. Mogan handled the ball 15 times for 65 yards. Truex had 35 yards in six carries. McNaughton carried three times for 32 yards. Webb carried once for seven yards. Joe Smith carried once for four yards. Chris Payne carried once for three yards and Mike Speakman ran once for minus 1.
Both Truex pass attempts fell incomplete.

Chris Howland hauled in two Kennedy passes for 31 yards. Judy snagged two passes for 13 yards. Blake caught one pass for two yards and Adams caught one pass for three yards. Circleville got an early break but couldn't capitalize.
ROCK Davis' opening kick was returned by Greenfield, but Circleville was penalized five yards for illegal procedure.

GREENFIELD moved to Circleville's 18 yard line in nine plays but a fourth down pass was intercepted by Ankrom in the endzone to stall the drive.
Circleville started at their 20 and rolled to the Greenfield 21 yard line in 11 plays as the quarter ended. The drive was aided by two major penalties against Greenfield for grabbing the face mask and roughing the passer.
The Tigers were faced with a fourth down and two yard situation to open the final period. Truex' keeper got the yardage, but the Tigers were set back 15 yards for clipping.
Faced with a fourth and 17 situation, Truex punted 33 yards to the Greenfield two yard line.
But the host Tigers were penalized 15 yards for a fair catch infraction and Circleville had the ball 4-4 on the 20.
Three plays later Truex scored.
LATE in the game, a Greenfield drive stalled on their 26 yard line and Mogan cracked left guard three plays later to close out the scoring.
Frericks paced the Tiger defense with eight tackles. Dennis Huston had five, Mogan, Truex, Radcliff had four each and Keith Davis, Stuart Moore and Imier had three apiece.

IN THE ENDZONE—Gary Mogan (39) crosses the goal line to score for Circleville while Dave Truex (15) signals the touchdown to the Tiger bench and fans. Also in the action is Dave Webb (23).

Logan Elm Wins Battle Of Statistics But Loses On Scoreboard At Adena

Logan Elm dropped a heart-breaking Scioto Valley Conference game to a tough Adena football team 22-8, in a tilt that virtually decided the league championship Friday at Frankfort.
The win gives the Warriors a 5-0 SVC record and their remaining competition is against the weak sisters of the league, Paint Valley and Zane Trace.
Logan Elm is now 4-1 in the conference, 5-2 overall and faces another rugged test this coming Friday when the Unioto Shermans invade the Braves' gridiron.
Statistically, the game was close last night. The Braves even had a slight edge, acquiring 14 first downs compared to 13 for the hosts and gaining a total of 241 yards rushing and passing compared to 236 for Adena.
EVEN in the "mistake" department the Braves came out ahead, turning the ball over three times, once on a fumble and once on a pass interception and once on a blocked punt while the Warriors lost the ball five times on fumbles.
But Adena's defense made few mistakes and was tough when it had to be. And Adena was able to capitalize on Logan Elm's errors.
The first touchdown of the game came with 4:25 to go in the first period when Adena's junior tackle Chuck Brown picked up a LE fumble at about the Adena 30 yard line and rammed 70 yards to score. On the conversion try, Adena was penalized and then fumbled the pigskin away.
The second touch down by Adena resulted when they broke through to block one of Doug Marshall's punts and covered the ball at the LE 32 with about two minutes to go in the first half.
Robert Garrison and Roger Ragland teamed up in five plays to reach paydirt with Ragland carrying the last three yards. This time the try for the extra points was good when Ragland kept the ball and carried for the conversion.
In the second half, the Warriors mounted an 82 yard scoring drive the second time they had the ball. The big play was a perfect screen pass from Ragland to Garrison that covered 63 yards for a touchdown. Ragland dropped back and dumped a short throw over the heads of onrushing LE gridders into the arms of Garrison, who had a wall of blockers in front who knocked the rest of the LE defense out of the play. Again Ragland kept the ball on the try for the extra points and moved across the goal line for a 22-0 lead.

IN the fourth quarter the Braves penetrated to the three yard line, where they had to give up the ball when they couldn't get it into the endzone for far enough for a first down on fourth and one at the three.
The Warriors moved the ball out to the 31 where they fumbled and it was recovered by Mike Williams. This time Logan Elm was able to capitalize and score.
Sargent passed to Greg Justus for the extra points and just 3:41 remained to be played in the game.
The Braves had two more chances with the ball. A pass interception killed one of the chances and time ran out on the next.
Dan Ramey was Logan Elm's leading ball carrier, picking up 51 yards on the ground. Rod Howard gained 49 although he sat out much of the first half with a back injury. He also caught one pass for 21 yards. Brain Barr gained 23 yards, Sargent 17, Gary Francis 16, Greg Justus seven and Wes King three.
DOUG Marshall was Sargent's favorite receiver, catching four passes for a total of 52 yards.
For Adena, Garrison gained 86 yards and Ragland 66. Ragland has been playing fullback for the warriors but in last night's game directed the Wishbone T as quarterback. Dave Gibson, the regular quarterback until this game, never played.
A contributing factor in the game was the loss during the first half of Howard and Francis and also the loss of Brian Herron who suffered a fractured collarbone a week ago.
The Logan Elm Band made the trip to Adena and performed before the game and at halftime.
The Boston Celtics won three quarters and they won the Julius Erving's back and the Virginia Squires are back in business in the American Basketball Association.

Erving made his first appearance of the season with the Squires Friday night and was instrumental in their first victory after four straight setbacks. Virginia whipped the New York Nets 130-120 with Erving accounting for 26 points.

In other games, the Utah Stars tossed the Carolina Cougars 127-111, the Denver Rockets overcame the Indiana Pacers 116-99 and the San Diego Conquistadors upended the Memphis Tams 132-107.

Ted Williams, manager of the Texas Rangers, played in only one World Series. That was in 1946 when he hit .200 on five singles in 25 trips to the plate.

Arkansas Faces Texas

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

It won't have quite the same effect on the national rankings as some of the recent shoot-outs, but tonight's nationally televised (ABC-TV, 9 p.m., EDT) game between No. 14 Texas and No. 17 Arkansas still will go a long way towards deciding the Southwest Conference championship and the SWC's representative in the Cotton Bowl.

"We've got an entirely different defensive problem this week; it's almost like we switched from slow pitch to hard ball," says Darre Royal, whose fired-up Texas defense limited Oklahoma's explosive Wishbone to 273 yards in last week's 27-0 loss and now is faced with rifle-armed Joe Ferguson, who prefers to do his Arkansas traveling through the air.

The only other night contest involving a member of The Associated Press Top Twenty finds seventh-ranked Louisiana State at home against Kentucky. In the afternoon, however, three sparkling match-ups send top-ranked Southern California against No. 18 Washington at Los Angeles, runner-up Oklahoma against No. 9 Colorado at Boulder, Colo., and third-ranked Alabama against No. 10 Tennessee at Knoxville.

Elsewhere, fourth-rated Ohio State hosts Indiana, No. 5 Nebraska visits Kansas, No. 6 Michigan is at Illinois and eighth-ranked Notre Dame entertains Missouri.

Set Probe
Of Umpires, Gambler

TOWSON, Md. (AP)—Samuel Green, the Baltimore County state's attorney, says he wants to meet with baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn next week to discuss possible connections between a gambling suspect and major league umpires.

Authorities confirmed Friday they had found the names of 11 American and National League umpires in three personal address books seized by federal agents and police during a gambling raid Sept. 26.

The raid was carried out at the suburban Baltimore home of Albert C. Isella Sr., a 57-year-old maître d' at Sabatino's, a "Little Italy" restaurant that has attracted widespread attention because it is a favorite dining spot of Vice President Spiro T. Agnew.

Isella was released on his own recognizance to face charges of bookmaking, lottery, maintaining a gambling establishment and conspiracy.

The raid was one of a series arising from a joint federal-state local undercover probe of gambling and stolen goods fencing originating on The Block, Baltimore's striptease and peep-show row.

Smith reported that in each case the umpire's address was listed and that in two instances their telephone numbers were written in the books. Nothing "indictable" was found, he said.

Staggering Colts Face Blazing New York Jets

By BRUCE LOWITT
Associated Press Sports Writer

John Sandusky couldn't have chosen a more opportune—or, perhaps, inopportune—time to make his debut as the head coach of Baltimore's staggering Colts.

Sandusky was a defensive coach under Don McCafferty before the Colts, with only one victory in five games this National Football League season, fired McCafferty.

So on Sunday, Sandusky takes his team into New York's Shea Stadium to face the Jets, a team which blasted the Baltimore defense for 573 yards enroute to a 44-34 victory a month ago.

Baltimore, one of the best in the league in team defense last season, is struggling along in 19th place among the 26 teams this year.

Marty Dombros takes over from veteran John Units at quarterback for the Colts.

Sunday's other NFL games have Dallas at Washington, Cincinnati at Los Angeles, Buffalo at Miami, Denver at Oakland, Atlanta vs. Green Bay at Milwaukee, San Diego at Detroit, St. Louis against the Giants in New York, New England at Pittsburgh, New Orleans at San Francisco, Philadelphia at Kansas City and Cleveland at Houston. On Monday night, Minnesota is at Chicago.

Puritanical Winner At Beulah Park

Puritanical paid $2.40, $2.60 and $2.40 for his victory which was the second in as many outings. Play and Sing paid $17.80 and $6.60 and J. B. Swords paid $2.80 to show.

J. B. Babe and Spice Cake (5-10) combined for a daily double that paid $35.80.

A crowd of 3,145 bet $302,490.

Lenny Wilkens Joins Cavaliers

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The Cleveland Cavaliers of the National Basketball Association, after waiting nearly two months, finally have the services of all-pro guard Lenny Wilkens to run their offense.

Wilkens, who'll be 35 a week from today, was acquired with forward Barry Clemens from Seattle Aug. 23 in exchange for Butch Beard. However, the 12-year veteran balked at reporting and it took Cavaliers owner 'Nick J. Mileti the ensuing two months to convince Wilkens to join the Cavs.

Exuberant Crowd Greet Homecoming Cincy Reds

CINCINNATI (AP) — The largest crowd ever to mob Greater Cincinnati Airport—estimated at 18,000—20,000—packed the terminal, concourses parking lots and surrounding expressways to welcome the Cincinnati Reds home this morning.

Ted Bushelman, airport public relations director, who was pressed into duty with other executives pushing the crowds out of the baggage area puffed, "when we've never had anything like this."

Reds fans started piling into the airport about 9 p.m., three hours before the Cincinnati team arrived. By 11 p.m., Interstate-75 looked like a parking lot for six miles.

Many rooters just parked their cars along the expressway, ramps and feeder roads and walked.

Airport police estimated there were 5,000 people in the 30-foot-by-3,000-foot ramp between the terminal to the entrance of the aircraft taxi area.

The roar could be heard across the terminal when the Reds, their families, club officials and sports writers opened the doors and tried to push their way in.

Gems And Hornets In 4-4 IHL Tie

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — The Toledo Hornets and the Dayton Gems skated to a 4-4 tie here Friday in an International Hockey League game that included a scoreless overtime period.

The Hornets tied the score in the third period. Hal White of Toledo and Jerry Mazur of Dayton led their teams in the scoring column with two goals apiece.

TEAYS Valley did mount two drives in the first half, marching to the London's 18 yard line twice. But they lost the ball on downs both occasions.

The only drive in a sluggish second half was again made by the Vikings, although London controlled the game most of the final two quarters.

In that drive, the Vikings started from their own 20 yard line and were halted on the London 17 when a fourth down pass play failed.

Allen gained 119 yards against the tough Teays Valley defense in only 11 carries. Duffey had 111 yards in 12 carries.

Terry Lambert paced the Viking offense with 95 yards in 24 carries. Ken Stewart carried the ball only 5 times for 77 yards.

The Vikings play next Friday at Metro League leading Dublin and then close out their season in the Ashville stadium with Hamilton Twp.

"Go Reds, Go Reds,"...the chant became frantic. Pete Rose was one of the first to emerge into the terminal and head for the baggage area. He was pummeled, kissed and cheered.

Crying children, their hands raised with autograph books and pencils didn't have a chance in the swell of smiling, gleaming-eyed well-wishers.

Johnny Bench, the all-time favorite of Cincinnati females, made a mistake. He stopped, waived . . . and "crunch."

"Ordinarily," said Bushelman, "we put a policeman with them to get to their cars. In this case, we should have had a dozen, but I doubt if it would have done any good."

Bench simply could not be seen. Girls in teams, one atop the shoulders of the other charged in screaming "Eeehh, Johnny Bench . . ."

Out the door, across the ramp and into the parking lot the two officers shoved, pushed, jabbed and yelled. About 20 minutes later they were out of sight in the dark parking lot headed for Bench's car and freedom.

Manager Dick Williams of the Oakland Athletics has been in two previous World Series. He pinch hit three times for Brooklyn in 1953, and in 1967 his Boston Red Sox bowed to St. Louis.

Staggering Colts Face Blazing New York Jets

By BRUCE LOWITT

Associated Press Sports Writer

John Sandusky couldn't have chosen a more opportune—or, perhaps, inopportune—time to make his debut as the head coach of Baltimore's staggering Colts.

Sandusky was a defensive coach under Don McCafferty before the Colts, with only one victory in five games this National Football League season, fired McCafferty.

So on Sunday, Sandusky takes his team into New York's Shea Stadium to face the Jets, a team which blasted the Baltimore defense for 573 yards enroute to a 44-34 victory a month ago.

Baltimore, one of the best in the league in team defense last season, is struggling along in 19th place among the 26 teams this year.

Marty Dombros takes over from veteran John Unites at quarterback for the Colts.

Sunday's other NFL games have Dallas at Washington, Cincinnati at Los Angeles, Buffalo at Miami, Denver at Oakland, Atlanta vs. Green Bay at Milwaukee, San Diego at Detroit, St. Louis against the Giants in New York, New England at Pittsburgh, New Orleans at San Francisco, Philadelphia at Kansas City and Cleveland at Houston. On Monday night, Minnesota is at Chicago.

Puritanical Winner At Beulah Park

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Puritanical took the lead in the middle of backstretch and was 4½ lengths ahead of second place Play and Sing at the wire in Beulah Park's featured eighth race Friday.

Puritanical paid $2.40, $2.60 and $2.40 for his victory which was the second in as many outings. Play and Sing paid $17.80 and $6.60 and J. B. Swords paid $2.80 to show.

J. B.'s Babe and Spice Cake (5-10) combined for a daily double that paid $35.80.

A crowd of 3,145 bet $302,490.

Lenny Wilkens Joins Cavaliers

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The Cleveland Cavaliers of the National Basketball Association, after waiting nearly two months, finally have the services of all-pro guard Lenny Wilkens to run their offense.

Wilkens, who'll be 35 a week from today, was acquired with forward Barry Clemens from Seattle Aug. 23 in exchange for Butch Beard. However, the 12-year veteran balked at reporting and it took Cavaliers owner "Nick J. Mileti the ensuing two months to convince Wilkens to join the Cavs.

SHOP DAILY 10 to 10 SUNDAY 10 to 6

Polaroid guarantees every picture you take with this camera. If you don't like it, you can take another one free.

$42.88

Model 420 without Focused Flash

If you buy one of Polaroid's Focused Flash cameras during this special offer, every picture you take until next July will be guaranteed. It's true. Polaroid guarantees you'll be delighted with all the pictures you take—or you'll get free film to take them over again.

Here's how it works: You'll receive a booklet of coupons when you purchase your camera. Each one entitles you to return to Polaroid any color pictures you take and judge to be unsatisfactory for any photographic reason, for free replacement Colorpack film before July 1, 1973.

Polaroid can offer this unusual guarantee because they feel the Focused Flash Land cameras and Colorpack Land film make an almost foolproof combination. Focused Flash keeps your flash shots from coming out too light or too dark. An electric eye and electronic shutter automatically control your other shots. Indoors or out, there's never an exposure calculation to be concerned with.

There are four models to choose from, packed with features, and they all take guaranteed pictures.

Offer expires November 30, 1972. Void where prohibited.

The Square Shooter 2 is Polaroid's lowest priced all-purpose instant color camera.

The Square Shooter 2 uses Polaroid's square color film so you can save with every instant color picture you take. And it uses inexpensive 4 shot flashcubes.

Square Shooter 2 may be inexpensive, but it's fully equipped to give you beautiful color pictures in a minute—at a lower price than ever before.

There's an electric eye and electronic shutter for automatic exposures. Sharp 3-element lens. Fast pack film loading.

Dallas and Washington will probably be going neck and neck for the rest of the season in the quest for the National Conference East title but somebody's going to get a leg up in the race this week. The teams are tied at 4-1.

Dallas, which has won six of its last seven games against the Redskins, hasn't allowed a score in the last six quarters.

Washington hasn't allowed a touchdown in its last eight quarters.

The Bengals-Rams game features another battle of divisional leaders. Cincinnati, with a 4-1 mark, leads the American Conference's Central loop while Los Angeles, at 3-1-1, is atop the NFC West. And each squad is going for its third victory in a row.

Defense Likely To Be Key In Bengals-Rams Contest

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Quarterbacks Roman Gabriel of Los Angeles and Ken Anderson of Cincinnati command the early attention Sunday when the division leading clubs battle yet the defense may take command of the football game.

The Bengals of the AFC Central Division have posted a 4-1 record while the Rams of Los Angeles held a 3-1-1 mark in leading the Western Division of the NFC in the National Football League.

Despite the usual great interest in offenses, it has been the defense of each club that has proved remarkable so far in this young season. The Rams lead the NFC, giving up only 240.4 yards per game, while the Bengals top the AFL, allowing an average of even less—229.

Coach Tommy Prothro of the Rams compares the Cincinnati team of this Sunday at the Coliseum to that of Miami which came in a year ago to surprise Los Angeles.

"I think we were one-half game ahead at that time and Miami came in and beat us," he recalled.

The teams haven't met previously but Prothro observed, "This should be as much of a problem for Cincinnati as for us."

Gabriel's tendonitis elbow apparently has responded to treatments — both Chinese acupuncture and American — and he says he feels better with each game.

In this key interconference game of the weekend, the Rams are favored by a touchdown, but they'll have to stop the passing of Anderson, who hit 14 of 25 for 182 yards a week ago in a 23-16 upset victory over Kansas City.

Gabriel completed 11 of 21 for 147 yards and a touchdown as the Rams whipped Philadelphia 34-3.

Uniform Labels On Phosphorus Content Slated

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three major detergent manufacturers have agreed to adopt uniform labeling practices identifying the phosphorus content of household detergents.

The Federal Trade Commission announced Thursday that Lever Brothers Co., Colgate-Palmolive and Procter and Gamble voluntarily agreed to the procedure. The three produce 89 per cent of household detergents.

The FTC has shelved a proposed rule governing the labeling and advertising of detergents, said Robert Pitofsky, director of the commission's Bureau of Consumer Protection.

He told a news conference the FTC has been unable to determine how extensively phosphate in detergents contributes to water pollution on a national or regional basis.

CONCERT PLANNED—The Expectation, a contemporary Christian singing group will be featured in the 10:40 morning worship service of the Southwest Church of the Nazarene at Clark Lakes. The group will be in concert at Westfall High School Auditorium Sunday, at 2 p.m.

The Expectation use orchestra background tapes. Steve Cochran of Westfall and Randy Dennis of Circleville are members of the group.

CHS Fans Outnumber Greenfield's

The spirits of the Tigers were high, both during the football game and at halftime at Greenfield Friday night. There seemed to be more Circleville fans than Greenfield fans at this Key SCOL battle.

For some reason Circleville plays at a lot of Homecomings, and last night was Greenfield's. The McClain pregame consisted mostly of the introduction of the queen and her attendants, but the Circleville Tiger Band did get to take the field to play the "Star Spangled Banner."

At halftime the Circleville Band took the field first, and entered to the music of "Granada." The band went immediately into "El Cum-bachero" which featured a drum solo. The Tigers then went on to play the "cow" music of Bill Chase's "Get It On." The Bands grand finale was the high step marching to the tune of "Soul Town."

The McClain band came on the field only to be upstaged by a spectacular automobile fire.

Deaths

MR. CHARLES L. NISSLEY

Former Ashville resident Charles L. Nissley died 6:30 p.m. Thursday in Springfield.

He is survived by his wife, Charlotte Rhoades Nissley, Springfield; daughters Anna and Barbara and one granddaughter Carrie, and his mother-in-law, Mrs. Harry Rhodes, Springfield.

Services will be 1:30 p.m. Monday in the Littleton Funeral Home, Springfield. Calling hours will be Sunday afternoon and evening at the funeral home.

The family would appreciate memorial contributions to the Kidney Foundation.

Class B Coloring Winners Announced

Beth Reichelderfer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ned Reichelderfer, Tarleton, won $10 and first place in the Clown Coloring Contest, Class B, sponsored by the Savings Bank.

Second place winner was Cheryl Rena Crider, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Crider, 507 Stella Ave. Third place winner was Brian Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marc Davis, 325 Edgewood Drive.

Labor Battle Flares Over Election

WASHINGTON (AP) — State labor groups rebelling against the AFL-CIO's neutral position in the presidential election are losing financial support from President Nixon, according to high labor sources.

One source reported that AFL-CIO President George Meany has encouraged the unions to withhold funds from rebellious state AFL-CIO organizations, but Meany heatedly denied the allegation.

"That is a lie, a complete and absolute lie," Meany told a newsman in a telephone interview.

The source, an AFL-CIO Executive Council member who supports Democratic nominee George McGovern, said Meany was pushing for the money cut-off in order to quell the infant rebellion. The source asked not to be identified.

Another member of the labor council, who supports Meany in the dispute and who also declined to use his name, confirmed that pro-Nixon construction unions and the neutral United Steelworkers were withholding per capita payments from the Colorado AFL-CIO because it endorsed McGovern.

Meany said he would pursue in federal court his effort to place the Colorado AFL-CIO under trusteeship for violating the neutrality policy.

But he declined to say what action, if any, might be taken against some eight or nine other state AFL-CIO bodies that have urged defeat of Nixon.

Under the official AFL-CIO policy, the federation's 116 individual unions are free to endorse either candidate, or neither, but state AFL-CIO groups are required to follow the national neutrality edict.

Meany said the sole issue in the dispute was upholding the AFL-CIO constitution.

"This was a move by Meany to show his power," said the pro-McGovern council source.

It was this account that Meany, 78, telephoned The Associated Press to deny.

Nine of the 16 AFL-CIO construction unions have endorsed Nixon, as have leaders of several federal-employee unions and the independent Teamsters Union.

Some 36 AFL-CIO unions and the independent United Auto Workers are supporting McGovern.

The division constitutes the only major split over presidential politics in the 17-year history of the AFL-CIO, which has always endorsed Democratic contenders for the White House.

Meany reportedly has sent warning letters to state AFL-CIO groups in Oklahoma, North Carolina, Minnesota, Nebraska, Iowa and Texas. Several additional state AFL-CIO conventions since then have urged defeat of Nixon in apparent defiance of national AFL-CIO policy.

One state group, California, held a special convention this week and withdrew a resolution urging Nixon's defeat after Meany had warned of disciplinary action.

Boggs Hunt Expanded In Alaska

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — After more than 100 hours of false leads and fruitless search, rescuers weighed the chances of survival and readied every available plane today for an expanded manhunt for missing House Democratic Leader Hale Boggs and three other persons.

With more than 70 aircraft in the skies, Air Force spokesmen said the search would be aided today by the two sophisticated RF4C reconnaissance aircraft, en route from Bergstrom AFB in Texas.

Their efforts were aimed at probing deeper into cloud-covered mountain passes for some sign of life or wreckage.

Mostly cloudy and snowy weather was predicted over much of the search area.

As Boggs' wife Lindy and her family abandoned their vigil here, authorities said they would expand the 56,000-square-mile search area for Boggs, 58; Alaska's sole member of the House, Nick Begich, 40; Russell L. Brown, 37, a Begich aide; and pilot Don E. Jonz, 38, owner of Pan-Alaska Airways.

The Boggs family arrived in Anchorage Wednesday but returned to Washington early today aboard a White House plane.

The missing Cessna 310 vanished Monday on a 560-mile flight from Anchorage to Juneau, after Boggs had raised about $22,000 at a campaign speaking engagement for Begich here.

Car Strikes Deer On Road

Shoemaker Is Respected Lawmaker

The Will Rogers of the Ohio House of Representatives is an unassuming legislator armed with a ready smile and a quick wit.

It's a shame that no one has presented State Rep. Myrl H. Shoemaker, the bard of Bourneville, with a tariat that he could twirl when he arises on the House floor.

SINCE COMING TO the legislature, his background in education has been invaluable in serving on Governor Rhodes' special task forces on educational review and on vocational-technical education. He also is a minority party representative on the Legislative Service Commission.

His mannerisms are deceiving to those unfamiliar with him and he can play give-and-take with the best.

Once he was challenged by a veteran lawmaker for offering a resolution to honor an Eagle Scout from his district. His detractor felt this demeaning to the House.

SHOEMAKER ENDED the potential debate in record time when he commented:

"I knew you were opposed to a lot of things, but I didn't know you were opposed to Eagle Scouts."

House members roared their approval of his comment and resolution.

HE'S PROUD OF the fact Chillicothe was the first state capital and is well aware of the historical significance of Adena.

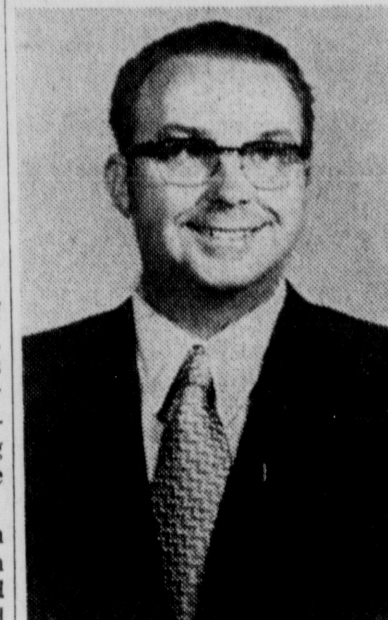

Few members will forget his explanation of the Great Seal of Ohio last season when he told the story of how the founding fathers of the state discovered the design of the sun rising over the wheat fields.

Brown said he took the action because it would be easier to rule a no vote off the issue if the court ruled against it than to have the ballots printed at such a late date if the court ruled favorably.

Even those fighting repeal welcomed the court's decision.

Albert Sealey, chairman of the Citizens for Fair Taxation, said the "uncertainties" about whether the repeal question would be on the ballot are over.

"A grass roots effort to pre-serve tax reform in our state . . . will proceed full speed ahead," Sealey said.

Gov. John Gilligan said he was pleased with the decision.

"As I have said repeatedly during the past month, I feel that if 350,000 Ohioans signed the petitions they should have the right to vote on the issue."

Gilligan, who is against repeal, added, that by Nov. 7 Ohioans "will realize that the present tax reform program is the farthest means of supporting vital state service programs."

Two Injured In N. Court Accident

Two people were injured when a motorcycle struck a pedestrian and two cars 4:55 p.m. Friday on N. Court St., just north of the Ted Lewis park exit alley.

The accident is still being investigated by City Policeman James Ford.

According to witness statements, motorcycle operator Daniel A. Smith, 22, 213 W. Ohio St., was driving south on Court St. when he hit pedestrian Karen E. Spangler, 465 N. Court St., as she was crossing the street.

Smith said the girl ran from the east side of Court St. and was hit in the middle of the inside lane.

Smith apparently swerved in the lane, trying to avoid a collision, but then struck a parked car owned by Marie Ostermyer.

Smith was thrown in front of a car driven by Michael Laipply, 19, Columbus, which was waiting to turn onto Court St. from the park alley.

Boh Smith and Miss Spangler were treated at Berger Hospital.

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP) — A mistrial has been declared in the securities violation case of Glenn W. Turner, the self-proclaimed millionaire businessman.

"I expected acquittal. I wish it was over, but this is better than a conviction," the 38-year-old Turner said following the decision Friday.

"It was a waste of my talent and a waste of my time," Turner added. "I know what's in my heart."

Pinellas County Circuit Judge Robert L. Williams declared the mistrial when the six-member jury reported that it could not reach a verdict after six hours and 20 minutes of deliberations.

Highway Patrol observed that traffic was backed up to Weigand Road on the highway last night, but at the time of the accident had slowed to a halt from the entrance to old Route 23 to the village.

Emergency treatment was required for injuries received by two young Columbus women who were involved in a collision shortly before 7 p.m. Friday evening in South Bloomfield.

Patricia J. Wangler, 20, and a passenger, Linda L. Schulthers, 25, were taken to Mercy Hospital emergency room for treatment after the Wangler car crashed into the rear of an auto operated by 22 year old Richard M. Schaffer, of Pataskala.

The young women were driving toward Circleville on Route 23 in the passing lane and failed to observe the traffic was stopped at the intersection of Route 316. Schaffer's wife Phyllis and Mrs. Schulthers daughter, age 5, escaped injury. Schaffer himself noted very slight injury.

CHS Fans Outnumber Greenfield's

The spirits of the Tigers were high, both during the football game and at halftime at Greenfield Friday night. There seemed to be more Circleville fans than Greenfield fans at this Key SCOL battle.

For some reason Circleville plays at a lot of Homecomings, and last night was Greenfield's. The McClain pregame consisted mostly of the introduction of the queen and her attendants, but the Circleville Tiger Band did get to take the field to play the "Star Spangled Banner."

At halftime the Circleville Band took the field first, and entered to the music of "Granada." The band went immediately into "El Cum-bachero" which featured a drum solo. The Tigers then went on to play the "how" music of Bill Chase's "Get It On." The Bands grand finale was the high step marching to the tune of "Soul Town."

The McClain band came on the field only to be upstaged by a spectacular automobile fire.

Even those fighting repeal welcomed the court's decision.

Albert Sealey, chairman of the Citizens for Fair Taxation, said the "uncertainties" about whether the repeal question would be on the ballot are over.

"A grass roots effort to preserve tax reform in our state . . . will proceed full speed ahead," Sealey said.

Gov. John Gilligan said he was pleased with the decision.

"As I have said repeatedly during the past month, I feel that if 350,000 Ohioans signed the petitions they should have the right to vote on the issue."

Gilligan, who is against repeal, added, that by Nov. 7 Ohioans "will realize that the present tax reform program is the farthest means of supporting vital state service programs."

The Will Rogers of the Ohio House of Representatives is an unassuming legislator armed with a ready smile and a quick wit.

It's a shame that no one has presented State Rep. Myrl H. Shoemaker, the bard of Bourneville, with a laudation that he could twirl when he arises on the House floor.

REP. MYRL H. SHOEMAKER

LEST ONE BE mistaken, Shoemaker is not a clown. He is a respected lawmaker, does his legislative homework and is conversant with the many bills that make their way through the House.

Representing Ross and Pickaway counties since the legislature was apportioned into districts, the likeable lawmaker serves on the Finance and Appropriation, Highways and Transportation and the Agriculture and Conservation committees.

His tenure as a legislator has been uninterrupted since he was elected in 1958, the last time Democrats won control in the Ohio General Assembly.

THE TWANG IN HIS voice

belies the fact he is a native of Chillicothe, just 12 miles east of his present residence.

Recently, he recalls with the ever present grin, a House employee asked when he "moved up to Ohio."

SINCE COMING TO the legislature, his background in education has been invaluable in serving on Governor Rhodes' special task forces on educational review and on vocational-technical education. He also is a minority party representative on the Legislative Service Commission.

His mannerisms are deceiving to those unfamiliar with him and he can play give-and-take with the best.

Once he was challenged by a veteran lawmaker for offering a resolution to honor an Eagle Scout from his district. His detractor felt this demeaning to the House.

SHOEMAKER ENDED the potential debate in record time when he commented:

"I knew you were opposed to a lot of things, but I didn't know you were opposed to Eagle Scouts."

House members roared their approval of his comment and resolution.

HE'S PROUD OF the fact Chillicothe was the first state capital and is well aware of the historical significance of Adena.

Few members will forget his explanation of the Great Seal of Ohio last season when he told the story of how the founding fathers of the state discovered the design of the sun rising over the wheat fields.

Some of the great names in the early history of the state were discussing affairs of state at Adena one night. There were drinks available and the officials overcame the tedious aspects of the situation by imbibing somewhat.

BECAUSE THERE was no inside plumbing in that era, circa 1803, the officials took time out from their discussions at dawn to leave the building temporarily.

It was at this point, Shoemaker says history recants, that these officials became awed by the scene which was to appear on the state seal.

Admittedly provincial, Shoemaker often goes along with Republican-sponsored legislation "because I represent a conservative area and I know what my constituents want."

HE DOES NOT consider himself part of the "cornstalk brigade" because "I'll go along with urban legislation if it doesn't adversely affect my district."

The father of eight children, two of whom are in education, the lawmaker and his wife, Dorothy, still have five at home.

The 35-year-old solon believes this legislature will be remembered for the things it has not done such as tax reform.

HE SUPPORTED THE administration's education tax bill, but offered an explanation on the floor of the house.

Noting the bill contained many things for many people, some good and some bad, he got his point across rather clearly by stating:

"There seems to be an appropriation in this bill for everything but salt. We should have included that because there is an awful lot of pork in this bill."
